She Saved Mom

That proud look on four-year-old Linda Prager's face is there for a good reason. She saved her mother's life in Pittsburgh by phoning a hotel desk clerk to tell him "Hurry, my mummy's awfully sick." Labels Eisenhower Rating of Army as Scare Propaganda

Representative Short Says U. S. Military Leaders Should Come In for Probe

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
Washington, July 1 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's statement that the United States army is a "poor second" to Russia's was labeled "propaganda for universal training" today by Rep. Short (R-Mo.).

Short suggested a congressional investigation of the army's status among world powers.

Eisenhower made the statement last week to a Senate appropriations committee in support of a plea that House cuts in the War Department's military budget be restored.

Short, second-ranking member of the House Armed Services Committee and an announced foe of universal training, told a reporter Eisenhower's testimony was "propaganda for universal military training, intended to frighten and scare the American people."

Up to Congress

"It is up to Congress to make an investigation to find out who has caused our army to become a 'poor second' to Russia's in the face of huge appropriations and unheard-of surpluses of materials," said Short. "Our army leaders should be called upon to explain what they have done with the unprecedented peacetime military appropriations. There has been too much double talk."

Short said that if the War Department's budget estimates do not "exclude" the possibility of war in 1948, as Eisenhower testified, "then they aren't doing anything to get ready for it."

Building Permits Are Fewer in City During Past Month

Thirteen less building and renovation permits were issued in June than in May by Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy, but a slight uptrend in important building was indicated in an increase of $38,314 in estimated construction costs, according to the report completed Monday afternoon.

The report showed a total of 41 permits for work estimated at $94,449 in costs. The May report showed 54 permits issued at costs totalling $95,135.

Seven permits were issued for new dwellings at an approximate cost of $50,500 while 25 permits for additions, alterations and repairs represent an estimated total cost of $34,674 for residential structures.

Three other permits for additions, alterations and repairs represent an approximate cost of $7,650. Three permits for garages were listed at a cost of $1,100 and three others for installation of oil burners and tanks set an estimated cost of $525.

Taft and Bricker Split Over Lobby Probe Plea

Flood Crest Forces Thousands Away From Low Sections

Highest Stage in 103 Years Recorded at St. Louis; Levees Abandoned by Volunteers

St. Louis, July 1 (AP)—The Mississippi river, at its highest flood stage here in 103 years, forced abandonment of levees protecting the nearby Illinois communities of Dupo and East Carondelet today after the successful evacuation of 4,000 residents of the area.

Col. R. E. Smyser, district army engineer, decided to abandon the levees when the muddy waters began pouring through leaks faster than thousands of volunteers could sandbag the water-soaked barriers.

School buses and army trucks were used to evacuate the residents during the night after a two-inch rain and flash flood added to the critical situation.

"Flood battlers," including hundreds of teen-agers, set up a second line of defense along the Illinois Central and Missouri Pacific Railroad tracks which were being sandbagged in a new bid to save the communities.

The Missouri Pacific switching yards in the area were being threatened by the new development.

As a result of the new rise in the river, Colonel Smyser also decided to give up the battle to save the huge Dogwood-Fountain Bluff levee, south of Chester, Ill. The levee protects 29,000 acres. The levee workers were ordered transferred to dikes farther downstream. Persons living in the Continued on Page Thirteen

Revenue Office To Lose 8 Persons

'Economy Measures' Cause Reduction Here as in Other Areas

The Kingston Division office of the Internal Revenue Department will lose eight of its staff during the month of July as a part of the "economy measures" made necessary by a reduction in the appropriation for the ensuing year which Congress has recommended.

Collector Harry M. Rieck, of Albany said today, The Kingston Division office includes the counties of Ulster and Greene.

Similar reductions are being made all over the country with the beginning of the new fiscal year. It was stressed that "black market" operations will continue to be investigated vigorously despite the reduction in staffs.

President Signs Bill

Washington, July 1 (AP)—President Truman today signed the $12,402,485,671 Treasury-Post Office Appropriations Bill but criticized what he termed the "gross inadequacy" of funds provided for tax collection.

The administration of the taxing statutes should never be influenced by political considerations, Mr. Truman said in a statement, adding:

"People of all political faiths are called upon to support their government through the payment of taxes and are entitled to adequate administrative controls to insure that the dishonest do not shift their share to the honest."

The total for the two departments is about $883,000,000 less than Mr. Truman asked for operations in the fiscal year beginning today. But he objected specifically to a $20,000,000 cut which he said was made in funds for the Treasury's Internal Revenue Bureau.

Mr. Truman did not elaborate on the reference to "political considerations."

In his statement, announcing signing of the bill, the President said the reduction "Mr. Internal Revenue Bureau funds will mean laying off 4,000 to 5,000 employees and will result in a direct loss of revenue of not less than $400,000,000 in the fiscal year 1948."

He continued:

Bricker Calls President's Bid Cheapest Kind of Demagoguery, While Taft Says He'd Welcome Inquiry

Washington, July 1 (AP)—President Truman's plea that Congress investigate what he called the "brazen operations" of real estate lobbyists today generated a broadside of clashing reaction with political overtones.

The Chief Executive made his appeal in assailing the Rent Control Extension Bill which he signed reluctantly because of provisions permitting 15-per-cent rent increases and junking nearly all construction controls.

Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) denounced Mr. Truman's lobby inquiry proposal as "the cheapest kind of political demagoguery."

But Senator Taft, Bricker's Ohio colleague and—like Bricker—widely mentioned as an aspirant for the Republican presidential nomination, told reporters in commenting on the President's call for a full investigation:

"I wouldn't mind doing that myself."

Taft is one of the authors of pending legislation to set up a long range housing program which Mr. Truman commended and which Bricker condemns.

Arthur W. Binns, head of the National Home and Property Owners Foundation, said his group would welcome an investigation.

"Nothing would please us more," Binns asserted, "than to have the truth spread upon the record and the American people realize the damage that has been done to them by destructive legislation and administration and false economics."

However, Herbert U. Nelson, executive vice president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, declared in another statement that "it is nonsense to talk about investigating us" because Congress has "the complete records of our activities as required by law."

"We are just as legitimate a group as farm groups and labor groups," just as representative of our profession, Nelson said.

Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.) said "this Congress has been the subject of the greatest pressure from lobbyists since I have been a member. There is no reason for singling out the real estate lobby. Let's investigate them all."

He is in the rent message yesterday.

Mr. Truman said the real estate lobby has "constantly sought to weaken rent control and to do Continued on Page Thirteen

'Leader' of Maquis Says Anti-Red Coup Impends

By MEL MOST
Paris, July 1 (AP)—A self-described leader of the "Black Maquis" said today in a clandestine interview that 25,000 armed men were ready to lead "a march on Paris at the appropriate moment" to establish an "anti-Communist" government.

Existence of the "Black Maquis" was disclosed yesterday by their interior ministry, which announced that it had arrested leaders of the movement for plotting to overthrow the republic and establish a "military dictatorship."

In today's interview the self-described "Black Maquis" boasted:

"For every one of us, they arrest there are two to take his place."

The anonymous source talked with a reporter for five minutes on a busy corner of the Champs Elysees before disappearing down a side street.

He claimed that arrests were continuing and that "the son of an important government official" had been taken into custody this morning.

The plotters, he said, had "no direct organizational continuity" with the old secret committee of revolutionaries (C.S.A.R.), also known as the "Cagoullards" or "Hooded Ones," who were arrested on charges of plotting to overthrow the pre-war popular front government.

The self-described leader said his organization was "passionately anti-German" and was drawn "in large part from members of the resistance" during the Nazi occupation.

is to prevent the possibility of a Communist menace to French democracy. The democracy has made many mistakes, but it is up to the French people to decide their government."

The man conceded that "some members of the organization may have been members of the C.S.A.R. at one time" but would not say whether he was one of them.

The informant would not specify where his alleged organization had its arms but said "an important center" was "the Breton Maquis—the same elements, who aided your American troops to advance from Normandy." He added: "They have kept their arms."

"Some names may come out in this which will surprise all of you who followed the fight to liberate France during the war," he declared.

Earlier, Breton chapters of Gen. Charles de Gaulle's rally of the French people (R.F.F.) took steps to purge themselves of possible unwelcome elements after an interior ministry assertion that "Black Maquis" plotters had tried to worm their way into the organization.

While there was no hint of any direct connection between the R.F.F. and the "Black Maquis," whom the ministry accused yesterday of conspiring to overthrow the government, R.F.F. leaders in Brittany warned that any members of their group found in possession of weapons would be dropped from membership at once.

Breton chapters of de Gaulle's rightist organization also cautioned Continued on Page Five

Search Parties Are Increased in West To Find Greta Gale

Child Has Been Missing Since Sunday Morning; Vermont Police Go on Patrol

Lassen National Park, California, July 1 (AP)—Little Greta Mary Gale, missing since Sunday, was found alive today in brush of the rugged park area, a searching group informed the family.

Additional search parties were thrown today into the hunt for Little Greta Mary Gale, whose disappearance from a vacation camp south of here Sunday was given a tragic corollary in the death of her great-grandfather, former U. S. Congressman John H. Tolan.

Tolan, who was 70, suffered a heart attack shortly after the child's disappearance was noted, about 10 a. m. Sunday. He was taken to the General Hospital at Westwood, about 12 miles east of here, where he died about 6 p. m. yesterday, with his wife and two sons at his bedside.

The two- and a-half-year-old girl, "Toni"—had been playing near the Tolan summer cabin at Lee's camp, near the southern border of this national park, when her disappearance was discovered.

The father, William Gale, Jr., assistant district attorney of Alameda county, told newsmen he had convinced the child was kidnapped by someone possibly hoping to obtain ransom money from Tolan.

Forest service men, sheriff's officers from three counties, lumberjacks and vacationers searched the area of numerous creeks yesterday.

Hunting dogs trailed the little girl's footprints for a quarter of a mile, but the prints disappeared near some automobile tire tracks.

An FBI agent was sent to the scene, but the agent in charge at San Francisco emphasized reports so far "gave no indication this is a kidnapping."

Stephens Says Legislature Will Block Rent Run-Away

Albany, N. Y., July 1 (AP)—The 1348 legislature will block any "run-away" in residential rents after the newly-modified federal controls expire next March 1, an influential Republican leader predicted.

Assemblyman D. Mallory Stephens said New York's standby residential rent control law probably will be extended beyond its scheduled expiration, July 1, 1948—four months after the federal regulations end.

"Much depends on building," added the Broxton legislator, author of the State Rent Law and chairman of the Joint Legislative Committee on rent.

Emphasizing that he was "speaking personally," Stephens said that "from the way it looks now, the law probably will be extended. It is fair to tenants and landlords. We will continue that practice."

"We will not let them run away with this thing," he added.

He made his comment after President Truman signed but criticized yesterday the new Federal Rent Law. It eases eviction procedures and allows a 15-per-cent rent increase if the tenant and landlord agree mutually and the tenant receives a lease at the new figure for all of 1948.

The New York law remains operative as long as any federal rent regulation exists and cannot prevent federally-approved rent increases or rent decontrol actions in the state.

However, if federal controls are not renewed in any form next year, the state law will become operative March 1. The state rent commissioner will have broad powers to readjust rents and re-

275 Sign to Take Courses in Local Summer School

Last Day to Register Is July 2; 11 Teachers on Staff to Give Instruction

It was reported today that 275 have enrolled for summer courses at Kingston High School, and the registration office issued a reminder that Wednesday is the last day for pupils to sign up for instructions in the various subjects.

Only morning sessions are to be held with 11 teachers present to conduct classes in the following subjects:

From 8 to 10 o'clock—Elementary algebra and English 4 begin, Latin 2 end, typewriting end, health, English 3 begin, 12th social studies end, 10th social studies end, rudiments of music, biology end and intermediate algebra.

From 10 to 12 noon—Geometry end, English 4 and Latin 1 end, health, English 3 end, 12th social studies begin, 11th social studies end, rudiments of music, geometry begin and chemistry end.

Except from regulations: "No student will be admitted to an examination in any subject who has not attended at least 30 recitations in that subject at a registered summer high school."

Absentees must present a written excuse at the office before returning to class. All tardies report at the office for tardy permit. Three times tardy will be called the equivalent of an absence.

Absence and tardiness cannot be tolerated and repeated offenses will receive "little consideration."

The library will be open Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Urges A.L.P. Change

Albany, N. Y., July 1 (AP)—The American Labor Party in Albany county should change party leadership to prove that the majority of enrolled members are not "Communists or radicals," says John J. Kiley, local head of the Longshoremen's Union. At a party meeting last night Kiley said the A.L.P. had been "letting a small group use the American Labor party to spread their own thoughts and ideas and to use it for their own personal benefit," and that "this has resulted in all of our members being classified as Pinks and Reds."

Beginning next Monday the Port Ewen plant of Hercules Powder Company will be closed for a week. The shut-down is due, company officials said, to a general slackening of business which in part is attributed to the shut-down of soft coal mines where miners are on annual vacation. The plant will resume operations the following week.

Miracle Is Only Way to Save Parley

Anglo, French Ministers Are to Consider Red Plan Proposed by Molotov

Survey Is Asked

Molotov Proposes Move to Find Out What Countries Have

Paris, July 1 (AP)—The Three-Power Conference on European recovery with American aid was expected to break up in disagreement today, and Britain and France were reported to proceed in continental economic planning without the Soviet Union.

Both British and French circles said "only a miracle" could save the conference from failure. French sources even predicted that today's session would be the last. The official French Press Agency said that after the final meeting a communique would be issued setting forth the impossibility of agreement.

British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault were to consider a plan proposed by Russian Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov in answer to Secretary of State George C. Marshall's June 5 offer of United States help in a European reconstruction program to be drawn up primarily by European nations.

Informed sources said that both Bevin and Bidault last night termed the Molotov proposal unacceptable but, at the Russian minister's request, agreed to seek further advice from their governments.

French sources had predicted that Bidault would ask the French Cabinet in a meeting this morning for permission—which probably would be given—to proceed on the basis of Marshall's offer without Soviet participation. The scheduled meeting was called off, however, because Premier Paul Ramadier could not be present. Debate began in the National Assembly on the government's economic policies, and Ramadier went there.

Bevin already had declared that Britain would carry on without Russia, if necessary.

Informed sources said Molotov proposed late yesterday a committee setup to find out how much each European nation would need and how much the United States could supply. They reported that Bevin and Bidault on the other hand, declared Europe should draw up a balance sheet of her resources, as well as needs, and adopt a program for employing these resources so as to cut the necessity for outside aid to a minimum.

French quarters interpreted Molotov's plan as meaning that the U. S. would have to pledge a definite amount without knowing where or how it would be used.

Molotov was reported to have suggested a three-power general relief committee: to be augmented by "certain other" nations and assisted by the subcommittees on food, power and machinery. These groups would represent Britain, France, Russia and two other nations.

The two other nations, Molotov was said to have proposed, should be those which had suffered most from Nazi occupation: under this condition, White Russia, the Ukraine, Poland and Yugoslavia might be considered to be in the running.

Negotiations 'Are Begun'

London, July 1 (AP)—Food Minister John Strachey disclosed today that Great Britain is negotiating with Hungary and Yugoslavia, as well as with Russia, for large quantities of food and has hopes of making agreements that will "fit in well" with U. S. Secretary of State Marshall's aid-Europe proposals.

"It is the essence of the scheme put forward on the initiative of Mr. Marshall that Europe should help itself as a prelude to any assistance," Strachey told the House of Commons in a reply to Conservative critics who accused him of lack of foresight and urged that government bulk buying be abandoned.

"I felt so homesick," the dark haired 24-year-old English girl said in relating why she answered "no" at the scheduled marriage ceremony Sunday when the priest asked, "do you take this man to be your lawful wedded husband?"

Her intended bridegroom, Peter Vasquez, 26-year-old express company worker, was not sure if there would be a wedding.

"If she's not certain," he said, "it wouldn't be a good idea."

But Miss Feveri, who said she left home over her family's protests to marry Vasquez, said: "I made a silly mistake. I know I want to marry him. I came over here for that."

Vasquez, his marriage halted, went through with the reception and guests at the church went to his home for a party. Miss Feveri, who is staying at his home, joined the crowd and danced with Vasquez.

RIVERFRONT AND RIVER MERGE IN ST. LOUIS

The Mississippi moved in on the St. Louis waterfront to make the freight train unloading platforms look more like steamboat docks as railroad tracks disappeared under flood waters. Here's the river laps at the produce warehouses in background while a switchman's shanty stands like a lonely island in the foreground. (NEA Telephoto)

MAN VS. RIVER: THE MISSISSIPPI WINS

This airview of a river on a rampage shows the Mississippi just after it broke through the Chouteau Island, Ill., levee (center foreground) after a futile five-day fight by engineers and volunteers to stem the muddy tide. At top of picture is Chain of Rocks Bridge, leading to St. Louis. River rose to 39.3 inches, its highest in 103 years. (NEA Telephoto)

This is the second of a series of simple plays that are often missed. Looking over today's hand it would not seem at all difficult to make four hearts, yet many pairs in a duplicate game failed to make the contract.

Declarer won the opening lead with the king of diamonds, and decided to pick up the trumps. Someone evidently had the story about the people of London who are walking the streets because they failed to lead trumps. He led the six of spades, West played low and dummy's queen won the trick.

Now for the first time he stopped to study the situation, but it was too late. All he could do was to lead a club and go up with his king, hoping that East had the ace. But West won and continued the diamond suit, and declarer had to lose a spade, a diamond and two clubs.

After winning the first trick with the king of spades, and before leading a trump, declarer should have led the six of spades. When West played low, declarer should win in dummy with the queen of spades, lead a heart back to his hand, and play another spade. If West won this and returned a diamond, declarer would win it in dummy with the ace, play the high spade and discard the losing diamond from his own hand.

Simple hands should not be taken for granted. A careful player like Waldemar von Zedtwitz attempts to plan the play of all 13 cards before he plays to the first trick.

State C.E. President

Lake George, N. Y., July 1 (AP)—Eugene C. Allhart of Rochester was re-elected for another year as president of the New York State Christian Endeavor Union at its 54th annual convention yesterday. Other officers re-elected were: The Rev. Earle W. Gates, Derby; the Rev. Carlton A. Harrison, Rochester, and Miss Florence M. Faber, Richmond, Ill.; vice presidents, Miss Edna J. McDougall, St. Albans, recording secretary, and Miss Mildred A. L. Christgau, Ridgewood, treasurer. Russell S. Gowdey of Bloomingburg also was elected a vice president.

Dewey Urges Caution

Albany, N. Y., July 1 (AP)—Governor Dewey today urged motorists to use common sense and courtesy to cut down the "terrible number" of Fourth of July weekend casualties. He asked every driver to make "a personal resolution to take no chances that might result in marring the joy of some other home as well as his own."

Rosendale Firemen Will Meet Tonight For Carnival Plans

All members of the Rosendale Volunteer Fire Department are requested to be at Sportsmen's Park, formerly Kristic field, south of the bridge Route 32, tonight, to make final plans for the three-day carnival scheduled to open Wednesday and close Saturday night, July 5.

Those at the head of the committee desire to make assignments this evening of personnel to handle the various features to be offered at the 16 booths, which they promise will afford a pleasurable time to all who patronize the big event. Among the stands will be a large refreshment concession. There will be ample parking room for all motorists who stop to patronize the carnival, the firemen promise.

HIGHWAY DEMOCRACY

"Life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness" . . . It's 171 years since those words first were written, but the truths which our forefathers held to be self-evident are still mighty good working principles. Even our rules on safe driving are based on them.

Take the rule of right-of-way at intersections, for example. It might be stated in the words of Thomas Jefferson himself: "Equal rights for all—special privileges for none."

"Equal rights" at intersections means obeying the traffic officer or the traffic light; if there is no signal, it means waiting one's turn; if there is any doubt as to whose turn it is, it means yielding the right-of-way. Last year more than 150,000 were killed and injured at intersections because someone claimed "special privileges."

Good highway democracy pays dividends in the life, liberty and happiness of everybody.

FORTY-NINTH STAR

Hawaii, more than ever, wants to become a state. In an informative book on the island, written by Prof. Blake Clark of the University of Hawaii, arguments are marshalled for adding this territory as the nation's 49th state. The author believes that a local plebiscite would show 90 per cent approval. The territorial legislature has petitioned 14 times for statehood, a dozen Congressional investigating committees have reported favorably on such a move.

For a long time fear of the disloyalty of the island's 150,000 Japanese influenced army, navy and American politicians against admitting the island since Japanese congressmen from Hawaii would have access to information that could be sent on to Tokyo. Fear of Japanese menace has been removed by the war and the heroic performance in battle of the Nisei, or, as they prefer to be called, the AJA, "Americans of Japanese Ancestry."

Business interests, which opposed statehood because they did not wish to end the benevolent feudalism maintained toward workers, now have learned to work with labor unions and show a new attitude toward native employees.

Citizens of the mainland would do well to inform themselves about this island paradise, for it looks as if one of these days it's going to be allowed to join up. The old flag is probably in for a change in its star arrangements.

FRANCE RECOVERING

"Normal times are just around the corner in France," so says George Weller, writing from Paris. Though the French still say they need American dollars to recover, time alone will do the trick, according to an appraisal of the rapid improvement in economic conditions.

Weller says that in many ways, France is ahead of the United States on the road to recovery. Food prices are high, but by September, with good crops, this difficulty should be ironed out. Many trucks are being manufactured, too, and with their aid in transportation, distribution should be good. The textile output is rising, and their already fair clothing situation should show steady improvement.

This is good news indeed. Communistic ideas seldom or never thrive in a prosperous environment, and with improved material conditions the rough political terrain should soon be smoothed out. A happy, well-fed, well-clothed France will be a healthy nucleus for new growth in Europe.

THE EXECUTIVE BRANCH

Clarence Brown, Member of the House of Representatives, asked a pertinent question: "Why does our federal government cost so much?" According to Mr. Truman's estimates, that government is to cost the people of the United States $37,500,000,000 in the fiscal year 1947-8. No matter what Mr. Truman or anyone else may say about reducing the national debt of $257,325,000,000, it is not going to be reduced much quickly. Government expenditures can only come out of the earnings of the people. Certainly little short of confiscation, the share that the government can take of the earned dollar is about tops, and is already placing limitations on the productive capacity of the nation.

Representative Brown answers his own question: ". . . In the last 30 years the Executive Branch of our federal government has undergone a fantastic growth. . . . According to the best information available, 30 years ago the number of establishments in the Executive Department, with the rank of bureau or equivalent, was but 158. By 1932—or 15 years later—the number of these Government divisions had increased to 521, and by 1944 had jumped to 1,141. I have been unable to get an accurate count on the number of these government establishments which exist today, but certainly they have grown no less, and now probably top the 1,200 mark."

Then he added: "The number of civilian employees in the Executive Branch of our federal government has also increased at an amazing rate. In 1916 they numbered 438,057. By 1926 the number had grown to 828,549. In 1936 it had jumped to 828,549, and by late 1946 had risen—believe it or not—to the high figure of 2,766,165."

The questions arise: Does the federal government need so many bureaus, commissions, departments? Does the federal government need so many employees? Any contact, even the most casual, with a government office discloses inefficient, slow, casual operations. I have been in some government offices where the payroll artists seem to trip over each other. The spread-the-work policy of WPA seems to have become permanent. "Go to that window!" "Go to this window!" "See that young lady over there." It seems such a waste of time.

Brown says: "Twenty-seven different government agencies are concerned with standards and inspection: 29 with statistics; 16 with water and other power; 22 with insurance; 93 with government lending in one form or another; 37 with foreign trade; 46 with conducting investigations; 37 with the public health; 64 with business relations; 44 with agriculture. . . . And on and on it goes giving a picture of duplication and confusion."

According to Comptroller-General Warren, one place where all the data is available. We are supposed to be a people with great managerial skill, capable of organizing efficient means of production and distribution. Yet we have never in our history applied those skills to the organization of the government. It just grew. And it seems to continue to grow unabated. Once paidly can't be abolished even after it has ceased to have any usefulness. A vested interest grows up in the continuance of the jobs.

Government agencies nearly always pad their requirements in anticipation of a Congressional cut. The result is that money is wasted to keep the figures high. The United States Steel Corporation did a fine job of this. Senator Henry Cabot Lodge and Representative Clarence Brown have introduced a bill to reorganize the Administrative branch of the federal government. This is not a sensational proposition and does not attract too much enthusiasm—but it can save the nation a heap of money. (Copyright, 1947, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.

CORONARY SCLEROSIS

We read frequently about men prominent in business, industrial or professional life, who have had a heart attack and died shortly afterward. Many of these men were of middle age, not old men.

What we do not read so often is the great number of men (and women) of middle age who have heart attacks but do not die immediately after—in fact, have several attacks and live as long as if they had not had one or more heart attacks.

Just as there can be mild or severe attacks of flu or other ailments so can there be mild and severe attacks of our commonest form of heart disease, coronary disease (sclerosis, thrombosis, occlusion). Thus in the medical clinics of North America, Dr. Francis C. Wood, Assistant Professor of Medicine of the University of Pennsylvania, states that in the treatment of an attack of coronary occlusion it is helpful at the very beginning to attempt to fit the patient into his proper position from the standpoint of the severity of the attack, in a sort of "severity scale" as follows:

(a) Severe: Severe prolonged pain, shock, rapid heartbeat, fever, increase in number of white corpuscles in the blood and signs of heart failure—shortness of breath, dark skin, water and rales in lower part of chest.

(b) Moderately severe: Pain, electrocardiographic changes, fever, increase in number of white corpuscles in the blood but not signs of heart failure.

(c) Mild: Pain, changes in electrocardiogram, no fever, no increase in white corpuscles, no sign of heart failure.

(d) Very mild: Brief pain (five to 20 minutes), no other signs except that from time on angina (pain) on effort, will occur, or if this angina was previously present, it will be more easily produced. This type is found where although the one blood vessel is closed, the other blood vessels in that region are so situated that they supply the part of the heart muscle usually supplied by the blood vessel before it was blocked.

By keeping these different type of coronary sclerosis in mind, the physician can give the treatment needed for recovery—long bed rest for the severe type with morphine and oxygen if necessary, down to the very mild attack where there is no need for bed rest, morphine, or other immediate treatment.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, June 30—Henry Wallace has refused to say whether he wrote certain idiotic Guru letters to Prof. Nicholas Konstantin Roerich, the Russian painter, orientalist and international political adventurer. I will therefore now prove the existence of a New Deal cabal which revolved, or swum, about Roerich until, finally, Wallace suddenly snatched out of his own dizzy whirl in 1935, while Roerich was carrying a mission to China and Mongolia for the Department of Agriculture.

It will be necessary for the reader to pay close attention to keep the relationship straight. Louis L. Horch, at present the regional director of the Department of Commerce for the states of New York and New Jersey, with offices in New York, was a disciple of Roerich. He has stated that this organization, of which Wallace was certainly a member, if not formally a member, was a cult and that the faithful regarded Roerich as God Almighty. He compared Roerich to Father Devine, the Negro cultist, whose followers believe that he is God. The idiotic Guru letters which turned up in the 1935 presidential campaign as material evidence of discreditable Wallace, express reverence for Roerich and indicate that the writer had consecrated himself to a holocaust by means of which, as it were, dross would be burned off mankind and a fine spiritual aura would be produced. The Russians called their massacrings a liquidation. The Germans called theirs a purge. Both were regional. This holocaust was to purify mankind and therefore was intended to sweep the whole world.

Wallace sent Roerich to Asia, ostensibly to hunt grass seeds, in 1934 and carried him by cable in 1935. Horch later testified that there was talk in the cult of a scheme to make Roerich "head" of an independent state of Siberia. The Guru letters were written before Wallace sent Roerich on the trip, in contemplation of the Siberian project.

In 1937, Wallace appointed Horch, the chief disciple of the old cult, to the position of senior marketing specialist of the Department of Agriculture, with offices in New York. Horch had spent more than $1,000,000 as angel or sucker for Roerich's spiritual and spiritual promotions and, in that experience, he had adopted a spiritual pseudonym, "Logvin."

Wallace knew him as a fellow-traveler in Roerich's queer circle during the years of their joint interest. Horch continued to work for the Department of Agriculture until 1942, by which time Wallace was vice-president. In Feb. 1942, shortly after Pearl Harbor, Wallace's spiritual comrade was transferred to the Board of Economic Warfare as assistant chief in the New York Bureau.

Horch was steadily promoted and reached the status of chief of the Foreign Economic Administration in 1944. On March 2, 1945, Wallace became secretary of commerce. Roosevelt, who appointed him, by this time knew all about the idiotic Guru letters, about Wallace's association with Roerich and about Henry's interest in esoteric or mysterious religions and the old, discredited pseudoscience of astrology. Nevertheless, Roosevelt fired Jesse Jones from the position of secretary of commerce to vacate the job for Wallace. Roosevelt thus would have placed Wallace in charge of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

This is not only the "biggest bank in the world" with the power to wreck the United States and the capitalist world, but it is also absolutely autonomous and absolutely irresponsible. Its powers are so great and its affairs so intricate and mysterious that a person disposed to abolish the capitalist civilization and the national boundaries which protect the United

It's hotter than the breath of a mad dragon as this is written . . . the kind of a day when even alleged mental effort incites perspiration. The office fan is chewing up still air and tossing it back with no apparent change in temperature. It still seems that there would have a better time in the crater of a volcano, and if they were worthwhile catching we'd ship them to one.

We're probably still better off, however, than those who had to bat the breezes with hand fans, which in this rambling mood reminds us of a story. We got it after it had made the rounds considerably, but our source assured us that it was based on fact.

A workman of the local W.P.A. several years ago, we were told, went with others to a municipal office to determine when he could get a load of wood. The city at the time was distributing wood from tree-cutting projects and W.P.A. employees were given preference over other applicants for a share.

This particular workman, who was known for his wit, had made several trips to the office without receiving a definite answer as to when his share would be delivered to his home. Finally one day he decided to push the issue a bit and asked an office attendant if he could see the list.

The office man obliged and when the veteran workman saw his name too close to the bottom of a long list of names, he looked at the snow outside the window, and then turning to the man with the list, he advised: "I'd suggest 'I'm dead' when you get to my name you send me a fan instead."

This is a lazy summation of our rambling mental mechanism, applied to the thought that the practice of standing in line and waiting has lessened considerably throughout the nation within the last year and a half.

First it was for gasoline, tires, sugar and for Uncle Sam's special "greetings" to the male population. Then it was for cigarettes, nylon and meat and back to sugar again. Now it could be, if anything important were to be had, for anything.

Those recent past few years were a test for national patience, which seemed to do well under the strain, but was a moral bulwark in the thought that many longer and sadder lines on other sides of the world were not doing so well.

Now we are at the point of a break in patience while we are in a virtual sit-down and wait-it-out either. Most of us fail to get the least bit of a mental grip on what is holding up the national wheels.

What is holding up production of the implements and accessories of peaceable living, we ask, as we know well enough that the implements of war came from our mills though produced by magic.

All of us, undoubtedly, will be standing on lines again, at first signs of well-stocked markets on most desired items. We've had enough practice, and we'll all be spoiled if the lines are unnecessary. Meanwhile, let's all sit by a fan . . . if it doesn't rain again.

Discussion of Dispatch Raises 'Artificial Issue' in Senate With Two 'Radical Democrats'

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, July 1—There's not much use for the labor-union leaders to threaten defeat for the Taft-Hartley labor bill. Even if they succeeded in electing pro-union representatives in every one of the seats in the close districts, there would not be a majority in the House of Representatives to vote the repeal or drastic amendment of the new labor law.

What the labor-union leaders who are denouncing the new labor law are omitting to tell their members and the public generally is that a majority of the Democratic party in the House of Representatives voted for the Taft-Hartley bill.

As long as there are approximately 110 southern Democrats in the House, it requires only about 108 Republican votes to make a majority.

What the labor-union folks are overlooking in their futile fight against restriction of their activities is that the House of Representatives three times passed a bill to curb labor abuses before the present law was enacted.

On each of these three occasions the vote was overwhelming. The first vote was 258 to 129 for restriction in a measure passed in June 1940 that was even more severe in some respects than the new.

It was 252 for and 136 against in the vote taken in December 1940 on a measure which also was highly restrictive as to labor-union practices.

The vote was 233 to 141 in 1943 when the House version of the Smith-Connally bill, later modified in conference, was adopted by the House.

In each of these cases Representative Edward Smith of Virginia, Democrat, led the fight for restriction. In each instance, the Republicans were a minority party.

The truth is that with 110 southern Democrats, the present Republican enrollment of 245 would have to be down to 108, or by more than 50 per cent, in order to get a majority to permit amendment or repeal of the new law.

There are enough rural districts in the north to carry at least 108 Republicans into office no matter what the union says or does. This means that there is a remote possibility of labor unions winning a majority in the House until they win their battle for amendments on a fair basis in the court of public opinion.

Labor-union strategists have been unwise in assuming that only Republicans want labor-union activities restricted or abuses eliminated. It will do no good to indulge in such exhibitions of bad taste as the picketing of the wedding of Senator Taft's son in St. Joseph, Michigan, last week.

It will do no good to cry out that the new law is "unworkable" and that it is going to be defied and challenged. A majority in the House of Representatives, consisting of Democrats from the southern states and Republicans from the north, can keep any important amendments from passing and repeal from being voted.

This, in a sense, turns the tables on the labor lobby which for nearly 14 years succeeded in running things in Congress by squealing legislation in the Senate Labor Committee or by trying to block action in the House Labor Committee. The last hurdle, which the public had to overcome to get a fair bill passed was the presidential veto. Now that two-thirds of both Houses have overcome this obstacle, it takes a majority of both Houses to get new legislation. This means that one House by its majority can block action.

The labor-union leaders are exaggerating the ill effects allegedly to be derived from the new labor bill. These leaders are afraid to admit that the Democratic party in the southern states recently defeated them. They are afraid to concede that the abuses of labor-union organizers in the south and misuse of the provisions of the Wagner Law by a labor-controlled board produced the backlash that aroused public sentiment.

The people do not read technical provisions of these bills. They didn't read the Wagner Law, either. But when abuses occur, they side with their representatives in Congress who for many years now have tried to adjust the unbalanced situation and make labor and management alike toe the mark.

The labor-union leaders will be wasting their members' dues. They will be losing a lot of valuable time, and will be stirring up unnecessary friction if they continue to mislead the country into believing that just the Republicans passed the Labor Law and that defeat of Republicans can change the situation. A majority in Congress stands ready to amend where amendments are really needed, but the labor-union leaders are off to a bad start if they think they will bring Congress to their side by displays of bad sportsmanship and bad taste. POLITICAL BLUNDER

Seldom in peace time has a president taken such risks with the national welfare as when Truman vetoed the union regulating bill and at the same time challenged organized labor to make the measure unworkable.

When Truman labeled the bill "unworkable," said it would "cause more strikes, not fewer" and would "sow seeds of discord which would plague this nation for years to come," using the same argument as the notorious, pro-Communist C.I.O. lawyer, Lee Pressman, political heir to the late Sidney Hillman, the President was clearly talking to and for the union chiefs.

They did not miss the invitation. A rash of dangerous strikes broke out in 24 hours after the Senate trounced the veto.

While it is certain that millions of union and non-union workers have joined other consumers and management in demanding union curbs, it also is true that the coal mines and the steel mills are largely under the guns of a total of about half a dozen men—ruthless men who have shown over and over their scorn of the public welfare and their preference for a class society in America.

These little dictators, with the aid, either active or passive, of the powerful President of the United States, certainly are in position to throw a monkey wrench into our economic machinery. A long coal or steel strike might very well precipitate the heralded "Truman Depression."

At this critical hour in history when the Soviet Russian Empire can afford an American industrial depression. The only winners in such a catastrophe would be the political heirs of Lenin—the men who said a world Communist dictatorship must be established even if at the cost of three-fourths of the world's population—meaning a billion or a half human beings.

Questions—Answers

Q—When and where is Hobe Day celebrated?
A—Hobe Day is observed Aug. 27 at Hobe, Ill. It was there that the first so-called hobo "union" was formed in 1897.

Q—How many postoffices are there in the United States?
A—According to the Post Office Department there are 41,751.

Q—What was the lowest temperature recorded by Admiral Byrd at the South Pole?
A—70 degrees below zero.

Q—Do all states incorporate a Bill of Rights in their constitution?
A—Yes. In certain states it is called a Declaration of Rights.

Q—Has the United States declared a general amnesty for its own military prisoners of World War II?
A—No, although many prisoners are being released as a result of clemency board reviews and completion of sentences.

Patrol in Vermont

Montpelier, Vt., July 1 (AP)—State police prepared to patrol Vermont today for the first time in history after a 10-year legislative battle highlighted recently by claims that lack of a state force was a factor in the failure to solve the disappearance of Paula Welden.

The new enforcement group, including present motor vehicle inspectors and some of the recently graduated 34 men of a training school will be in command of Brig. Gen. Merritt A. Edson, head of the new Department of Public Safety.

Creation of the state police was recommended by Gov. Ernest W. Gibson and Vermont's need of such a patrol was cited repeatedly during the mystery of the Welden girl, Bennington College sophomore and daughter of a Stamford, Conn., industrial engineer, whose disappearance from the school December 1 is still unsolved.

A Year Since OPA, and Prices Still Going Up

Price rises of more than 50 per cent in many consumer items in the year since OPA's death seem to prove wrong the argument of price restriction foes that freedom would bring lower prices. Prices in New York include nearly 100 per cent for pork loin, 25 per cent for washing machines. But in some cities items such as nylon hose and milk edged down or remained at the OPA level. San Francisco shows best record of stability among the six representative cities shown on the pie-map, with shoes, nylons, the same, and washing machines and electric stoves up only 8 per cent.

tioned their members against persons who represented themselves as coming from R.F.F. headquarters with promises of arms.

First official disclosures yesterday concerning the "Black Maquis" plot indicated it was centered in Brittany, many of whose people clashing with the rest of France on linguistic and cultural grounds—long have nourished aspirations of independence which make the area a fertile field for sowers of dissension.

Rumors swept the Breton peninsula last night of new ramifications of the plot, with the reported discovery of tentacles of the conspiracy in numerous villages, but none of the reports were confirmed by police.

Meanwhile—with alleged leaders of the "Black Maquis" languishing in prison—Interior Minister Edouard Depierre promised to push a six-months-old investigation into the plot to a conclusion no matter whom it may involve. Several of those already accused, however, scoffed at charges that they had plotted to overthrow the government by force.

There was no immediate comment from Eisenhower or the War Department.

The House trimmed War Department requests by $435,000,000 in voting the army $5,280,000,000 in cash and $280,000,000 in contractual authority for the year beginning today. Eisenhower told the Senate committee Saturday the reductions would "take us well into the danger zone."

The Senate has yet to act on the measure.

When a man tries to fool his wife about the night before, he knows just how the defendant feels who takes the witness stand in his own behalf.

The woman was on the witness stand and had testified under direct examination. Then the lawyer for the other side took her under cross-examination.

"Mrs. Jones," he began, do you gossip?" "That's my own business," snapped the woman, glaring at the man she considered very impertinent.

The lawyer paused for a moment. Then he began, and the courtroom roared, for this is what he said:

"Madam, have you any other business?"

Fire in Skyscraper

New York, July 1 (AP)—Several thousand office workers, including James A. Farley, were forced to flee a 42-story mid-Manhattan skyscraper by foot late yesterday when a fire in a shaft cut off all elevator service. Police reported there was no panic although dense smoke filled the upper floors. Firemen walked all the way to the top floor to fight the blaze. They said a short circuit probably caused the fire, which was extinguished after an hour and 20 minutes.

HIGH FALLS

High Falls, July 1—The tea held at St. John's Parish Hall by the Guild of the Episcopal Church in honor of the new vicar and wife, the Rev. and Mrs. Robert Ward, was a social success. Many from the Reformed Church and the community at large were present as well as the congregation of the Episcopal Church. The Rev. and Mrs. Ward were presented with a floor lamp and the Rev. William Greir of Waiden, who has been serving the church of late, was given a check in appreciation of his work. Refreshments were served. Mrs. Victor Lewis and Mrs. Warren Belmonte poured.

The newly appointed minister and wife, the Rev. and Mrs. Timmer of the Reformed Church are moving to Stone Ridge this week. The Rev. Mr. Timmer will preach his first sermon here next Sunday.

Mrs. Edward Lonergan is in Yonkers visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence King, and children. Miss Audrey King will return with her grandmother to spend the summer here.

Mr. and Mrs. David Blakely and children Sheila, Jeanne, Judy and Gloria of Hartford, Conn., are spending a two-weeks' vacation with Mr. Blakely's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Blakely.

Mr. and Mrs. John Schafer and infant son, also of Hartford, Conn., are spending their vacation at the Rock Cliff House and have called on friends of the vicinity.

Kenneth Briggs is visiting his brother, J. E. Briggs.

Mr. and Mrs. DeForest Bishop of Stone Ridge called on their granddaughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund O'Hara Sunday evening.

Miss Kate Krom has returned home for the summer vacation after teaching at Valley Stream.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Ash of Stamford spent the week with Mr. and Mrs. William Buzaleski.

Mr. and Mrs. William Buzaleski entertained the following people recently in honor of their 25th wedding anniversary: Mr. and Mrs. Romanus Dally and children Andrea and Michael of Rosendale, Miss Lucille Mene of New York, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Furman, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sjogren, Mr. and Mrs. Christian Corblen, Mrs. Lulu Morgan, and Charles Adams of High Falls.

Miss Patricia Davenport, a student of St. Lawrence University, has returned to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Davenport for the summer.

Mrs. Robert Ham who has been teaching at Coxsack has returned home. Mr. and Mrs. Ham are building a new home across the street from Mr. Ham's father.

Mrs. Irving C. Barnes of New Paltz called at the Krom home-stead.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Cudney entertained the following at their home at a frankfurter roast Saturday evening: Mrs. Lewis Dyer, Mrs. William Lambertson, and children William and Susie, Mr. and Mrs. Alden Hutches and daughter Betty Jane, Mr. and Mrs. Edmond O'Hara and sons, Eddie and Lennie, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Anderson and children Donald, Robert, and Carol and Mr. Anderson's mother, and Mrs. David Rask and sons David and Jeffrey.

The Auxiliary of the American Legion of the town of Marbletown Post, 1312, will sponsor a dance in the High Falls Firehall Thursday evening. Music will be by the "Stump Jumpers" for modern and old-fashioned dancing.

Exercise Can Cure Those Ugly Bulges

Are large matronly hips keeping you from enjoying slacks and other summer sportswear? Why put up with them any longer? You can literally melt away that flabby flesh through exercise.

The trouble is, our automobile-easy-chair-civilization has robbed us of the vital exercise we need to keep in trim. Our muscles just don't get enough of a workout. In no time at all, our hips are cushioned with fatty pads.

Here's an exercise that helps combat this extra flesh. Sit on the floor, legs straight, hands on floor behind hips. 1. Pull knees up to chest, raising feet a few inches from the floor.

2. Swing knees from side to side, first touching knees to floor on right side, then on left. Repeat sixteen times.

Other figure faults can also be cured by exercises given in our Reader Service booklet No. 90. Exercises for the hips, waist, bust, arms, neck, shoulders, feet. Also postpregnancy exercises and exercises to correct constipation.

Send 25c (coin) for "Beauty and Health through Simple Exercises" to Kingston Daily Freeman, Reader Service, 243 West 17th St., New York 11, N. Y. Print name, address with zone number, booklet title and No. 90.

State TB Chairman

Albany, N. Y., July 1 (AP)—Dr. Oswald R. Jones of New York City was appointed today by Governor Dewey to a five-year term as chairman of the new state tuberculosis committee. The committee will review, at the health commissioner's request, all factors related to the facilities for the treatment of patients suffering of tuberculosis or pulmonary diseases.

White Russians Reach Shanghai, Accuse Red Agents

Shanghai, July 1 (AP)—Penniless, weary and ragged, 200 white Russians from the Kulia District of northwest China's Sinkiang Province have reached Shanghai after a 3,000 mile journey—by truck, train, and foot—which took them nine months.

The refugees were part of a group which had been living near the Soviet frontier. They said Soviet agents had attempted to coerce them into registering as Soviet citizens, but they had refused.

They are descendants of White (Czarist) Russian families which fled from Russia between 1917 and 1923. Some of the original settlers among the group were Cosacks who had fought against the Bolsheviks and had sought sanctuary in Sinkiang.

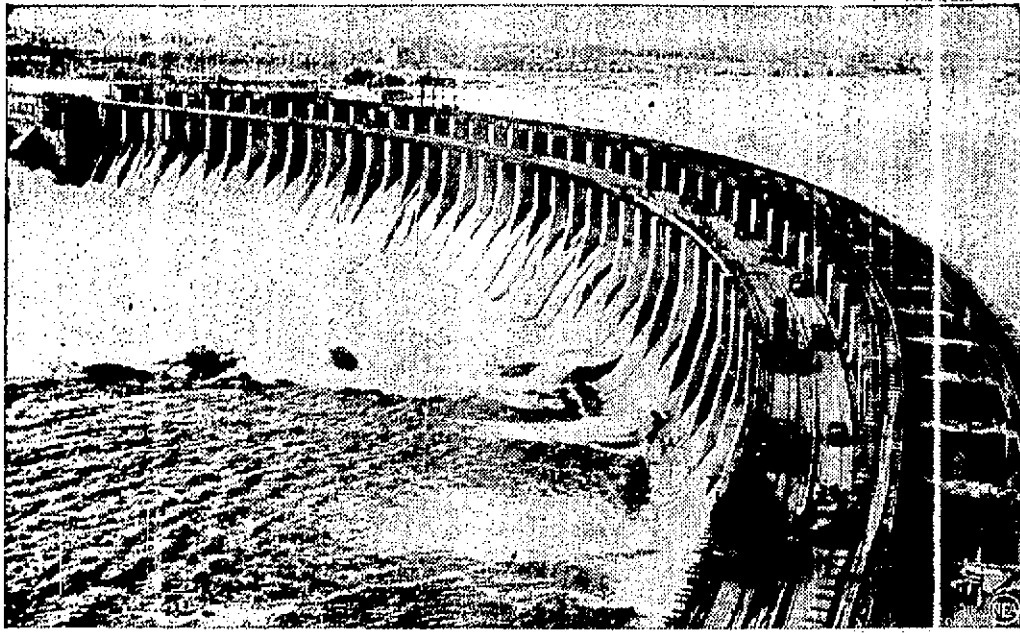

They said other groups of refugees are on their way to Shanghai.

These first arrivals said Soviet agents, posing as Mongols, were active in Sinkiang; and that troops in Russian uniform were encamped in the disputed boundary zone between Sinkiang and Outer Mongolia.

Outer Mongolia now is supposed to be an independent republic, and very friendly to Russia. (China accused it of invading Sinkiang last month; Outer Mongolia said China had invaded its territory.)

The application of the science of chemistry to glass making dates back less than a century.

Dnieper Dam Restoration Well Along

Restoration of the big Dnieper Dam near Dnepropetrovsk, Russia, left by the Germans with 14 piers blown out, is well along. The job, under way for three years, is expected to be finished by 1950, with power capacity greater than the prewar two and one-half billion kilowatt-hours. Reconstruction machinery is shown moving along the dam's top.

Unusual Summer Not Due to A-Bomb Says Weather Chief

By CHARLES MONONY

Washington, July 1 (AP)—The Weather Bureau rates this summer as unusual, all right, but it doesn't think a new-model summer has been born.

That's the answer the Weather Bureau has for the large number of letter writers who've been asking, "Is this one unusual or will summer always be cold, stormy and troubled from now on?"

Weathermen, taking a long-range view, maintain that one summer doesn't make a weather cycle any more than one swallow makes a summer.

I. R. Tannehill, chief forecaster, provides the further assurance that the abnormality hasn't resulted from the "atom bomb, or cutting the trees down" or any of the many other things the letter writers are asking about.

Elaborate observations at the Bikini test last year showed no effect upon the weather from the A-bomb explosion, he told a reporter. Tannehill and his associates said the abnormal cold so far this summer has centered in the area between the Rockies and the Appalachians. West of the Rockies, it's been abnormally hot, in the east, or most of it, there has been unusual coolness, but nothing like that in the central states.

It's much the same story for rain, the cause of the floods in the lower Missouri and middle Mississippi valleys.

Coolness in the east and in Canada had something to do with the heavy rains in the central states, say the weathermen, explaining: These rimming cold masses blocked in rain clouds—like walls of a sort. In other words, the rain clouds just couldn't move on the other sections.

But the weathermen are doubtful that the tornadoes which took many lives in the Texas-Oklahoma and other inland areas represent more tornadoes than usual. "They just happened in populated places instead of smacking down in fields, they observed.

So Big, Yet So Little Mount Whitney, highest mountain in the United States, would not be the world's highest mountain if it were twice its present height.

Charlie Must Pay

Los Angeles, July 1 (AP)—Actress Rita Merritt, who charged that her band leader-husband, Charlie Barnett, beat her at least a dozen times, has been awarded $100 a week for 10 weeks from his salary she estimates exceeds $250,000 a year. Judge Stanley Mosk, hearing her separate maintenance suit, ordered Barnett not to molest his wife or dispose of any community property pending settlement of the case.

Oyster fishermen, who hate starfish because they destroy oyster beds, once made a practice of tearing to pieces and throwing into the sea every starfish caught. Thus, unwittingly, they increased the starfish population, since each arm developed into a new individual.

Maverick Players
To Begin 2nd Week
With Thunder Rock

Woodstock, July 1—The Maverick Players are ready for tonight's opening performance of Robert Anderson's exciting play, "Thunder Rock," at the Maverick Theatre. The play will begin at 8:45 o'clock.

Director Paul Morrison said this week he expected unusual audience response to this drama and said Monday night's dress rehearsal was very satisfactory.

Leads will be played by Ken Payne, James Doohan and Jeanne Jerome, while Priscilla Amidon and Lee Martin will make such a hit in last week's opening play, "Roadside," also are cast.

Market Fair Has
Its Usual Appeal
Saturday Morning

Woodstock, July 1—Many buyers and onlookers were seen at the Market Fair on Saturday morning where tables were covered with every kind of interesting and unusual article.

Mrs. Verna Elliott is one of the few ladies having a table at the fair since its beginning 30 years ago. Her specialty is antique jewelry.

Mrs. Georgie Sargent who has a special booth Saturdays from 10 to 12 o'clock seemed to be as popular as ever.

Mrs. Edna Schoeppler's table is devoted to Friedrich Schlegel's paintings. Mrs. Augusta Allen, who is said to have been the originator of the Woodstock peasant dress back in the days when calico could be bought for little or nothing at the Boardville store, had many fetching models on display.

There was every type of up-to-date June Riscley's table which she has had for the past three years. Mrs. Grace Bierhals is regularly at the fair selling her husband's paintings and hand-blocked cards. Patty Elliott had a fine selection of hand-made towels and pillow cases.

The food being served by the ladies of the Lydian Society, Dutch Reformed Church, was in such great demand, they were out of business early in the morning and hope to have more next week.

Felt was predominant at Virginia and Dorothy Scelsie's table where everything from a handbag to earrings was to be had.

Small paintings by the late Florence Ratterman are to be found at Dorothy Ratterman's table. Maude Shelton's ceramic jewelry, ash trays, candle holders and other items came in for their full share of attention.

Mrs. Eric Knight calls her table "The Little Flea Market." Many lovely hand-made articles were displayed by Helen Coons.

Margaret and Mary Townley, newcomers in Woodstock, are participating in the Market Fair for the first time and are showing many hand-woven items, national dolls, wood carving and jewelry.

St. Dunstan's Church is represented with odds and ends under the supervision of Miss Gabrielle Moncreux.

A crowd gathered about Mrs. Pierre Montreux as she described some of the antique jewelry on exhibition. An interesting bracelet and necklace set made of hammered silver inlaid with jewels and said to have been made in Russia about 150 years ago was originally designed for a famous Russian singer.

A heavy amber necklace and bracelet set about 100 years old was also receiving much attention. In addition to her antique jewelry, frames, old glass and Hogarth prints were displayed.

Lillian Fielle had many national dolls as well as Chinese plates and pieces.

Annette Dietz and her mother, Mrs. Anna Dietz had a large display of jewelry, antiques and paintings done by Miss Dietz who teaches art in the Eastern District High School, New York.

"Summer theatres for the most part today are replicas of Broadway," Mr. Morrison said in a recent interview, and continued, "the commercial theatre has been dying of self suffocation, and the hope of a future theatre that is alive and exciting will depend

Robinson Speaks
On Fiction Angle

Woodstock, July 1—Henry M. Robinson, well known Woodstock writer, spoke on the Tendencies in Modern Fiction at the first Library afternoon of the season which was held on the spacious lawn at the home of Dr. and Mrs. James T. Shotwell, Saturday.

In the beginning of his talk, Mr. Robinson emphasized the difficulties confronting the modern writer, because of the "escape" angle so prevalent with a large majority of readers. He believes that many of these readers merely scan the surface of the literary content. Too, there is the problem of the publisher who is generally a business man seeking to publish a best-seller, a selection of the Book of the Month Club or the Literary Guild selection.

"Among the tendencies in today's writings," said Mr. Robinson, "is the accent on realism; in other words, a photographic picture or surface representation as well as educational propaganda such as found in Gentlemen's Agreement and King's Blood Royal." In his opinion, these works lack creative thinking.

Psychological and neurotic studies now prevailing will, he believes, eventually pass from the present clinical aspect, as exemplified in The Fall of Valor, into art.

Mr. Robinson was very enthusiastic about the works of Franz Kafka, an obscure Viennese government clerk, whose writings allow the reader to absorb as much as he chooses. Such writings, however, he stated are frequently unfavorably reviewed by critics, thereby placing a handicap on the writer.

Rare are the young idealistic writers who do not, because of financial necessity, eventually succumb to writing for the larger group of not-so-idealistic readers.

"Of course," said Mr. Robinson in conclusion, "there is an audience for good sound novelists whose works show originality and poetry, but this group of readers is limited and while such novels receive good reviews, they are little read."

About 80 members of the Woodstock Library attended the first of the Library Afternoons and took part in the lively question period which followed Mr. Robinson's talk.

Bard College Is Represented at Maverick Theatre

Woodstock, July 1—Faculty and student body of Bard College are represented at the Maverick Theatre this season. Paul Morrison, director of the Maverick Players has been associated with the college in the Drama Department since 1937. William Pitkin, a Texan, is completing his college work at Bard, and is responsible for the Maverick sets which are receiving such favorable comment.

Mr. Morrison is rated one of the outstanding directors in the East, which reputation he has earned through his many years experience in directing at Lafayette College, Guild and Group Theatres, New York as well as the American Repertory Theatre, before coming to Bard College. He has great admiration and hope for the Maverick Players and the Maverick Theatre. As he says, "It has all the possibilities for any theatre production of imagination and ingenuity. It is one of the few summer stock theatres representing the traditions of freshness and eagerness that are peculiar to youth and which have long been associated with summer stock."

Hope Is in Young Folk

"Summer theatres for the most part today are replicas of Broadway," Mr. Morrison said in a recent interview, and continued, "the commercial theatre has been dying of self suffocation, and the hope of a future theatre that is alive and exciting will depend upon the formation of companies of young people who realize they must create their own opportunities."

Mr. Morrison has watched the work of the group now playing at the Maverick for two years and enjoys directing them, because of their ability and their eagerness to succeed.

Before coming to Bard College, William Pitkin studied stage design at Southwestern University, University of Texas and National University of Mexico. His desire to study with Mr. Morrison, of whom he had heard so much, took him to Bard College and to the Maverick Players. He appreciates the unusual challenge offered by the theatre to create in a real setting that are in keeping with the play and rustic atmosphere of the theatre.

Webster Sends Out Pamphlet About Red Infiltration

Woodstock, July 1—The belief that many unsuspecting groups of respected citizens in small and large communities in this country are being used to promote Communism, prompted Benjamin L. Webster of Byrdcliffe to mail last week to some 700 families in the Township of Woodstock, a pamphlet prepared by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, titled Communist Infiltration in the United States—its Nature and How to Combat It.

When interviewed, Mr. Webster frankly stated that he has been in Woodstock since 1904 and has heard every kind of liberal opinion. "Until right now," he said, "liberal expressions have been out in the open, but there is a growing tendency to further the interests of Communism through groups prominent and highly respected persons, who very often find out to their sorrow they have lent their names to organizations and movements without first knowing the true sponsors. I am convinced a subversive operation is going on in this community."

Mr. Webster described the pamphlet by remarking, "It is not hysterical or anti-anything, but is an evidence of something that is going on all over the world. It has interested me in a high degree because it is rather dispassionate presentation of what are undoubtedly facts, and for this reason, I am passing it on to my neighbors." Further, he said, it was not his intention to mold the thoughts of others, because, being a liberal himself, he believed in the individual rights of man, but it is his firm conviction that all facts should be made available to the public in order that intelligent decisions can be made.

Contained in the pamphlet is the statement that the report was "prepared after the most painstaking research and verification, analyzes the nature of the techniques and devices now employed by the Communists as well as by their fellow travelers to weaken us insidiously and infiltrate the labor movement, the church, literary and educational and other groups. Their influence in the government is considerable."

The following proposals are outlined:

1. Since Communism thrives upon deceit, exposure of the facts would be a potent counter weapon. We propose more fact-gathering, competent, impartial and patriotic. Both private groups and the government have a responsibility here.

2. In the labor field, Communism thrives primarily through organization and discipline. Labor unions and non-economic groups, not directly interested in labor's relation with capital, should encourage labor education. This would give the non-Communist majority the training needed to fight their disciplined opponents.

3. The businessman, heavily preoccupied with business problems, should concern himself more with the problems of government and should make certain that he learns to detect Communists in his labor relations, his business, and other contacts.

4. Because Communist loyalty is primarily given to a foreign power, Communists and their followers should be excluded from government service. Congress should appropriate adequate funds for a stringent but fair loyalty test.

5. As an agent of a foreign power, the Communist Party should be forced by law to reveal its membership, funds and activities.

6. In view of the revelation of Comintern activities throughout the world, the United States should enforce strict reciprocity with the Soviet Union in regard to the number and freedom of movement of nations of either country within the other.

7. Our government should follow a policy of frankness with its citizens in regard to the major facts which enter into the making of our foreign policy.

Mr. Webster's profession is that of industrial design, the purpose of which he explained, is "to obtain more and better for more people at less cost."

Local response to the pamphlet by mail and telephone has convinced him his act was timely, he said.

Pastor Sheely Is Heard in Farewell

Woodstock, July 1—The Rev. F. G. Sheely, pastor, Methodist Church in Woodstock, preached his last sermon Sunday morning before leaving with Mrs. Sheely for Albany where he expects to rest for some time. The Sunday school children in Mrs. Sheely's class presented her with a farewell poem and lovely bunch at the close of the service on Sunday morning.

It is expected that the Rev. C. Bennett, the new pastor, who is en route from the West, will arrive in time for the annual church fair to be held July Fourth, beginning at 2:30 p. m. The Women's Society of Christian Service will serve its annual buffet supper at 5:30 on the day of the fair and has announced that included in the menu is baked ham, roast beef, various salads, baked beans, home-made pies, and many other delectable items.

Phelps Says Melville Allegory Is Timely

Woodstock, July 1—Those assembled at the Catskill Book and Record Shop for the second in the series of lectures in criticism and philosophy Thursday heard Robert Phelps discuss the major novels of Herman Melville, Moby Dick, Pierre and Billy Budd. In opening his survey of significant modern writers, Mr. Phelps chose Herman Melville, because Melville so dramatically forecast some of the most troubling moral problems of our society which are deeply reflected in the writers of today.

"Moby Dick," he said, "projected an allegory of man's striving, like ancient Prometheus, against pure evil, as symbolized by the White Whale. Pierre, likewise, is a symbolical story of struggle."

Frank Meyer will return to the lecture platform Thursday at 4 o'clock to discuss The Crisis of Values in Our Time.

Shotwell to Speak

Woodstock, July 1—The Woodstock Discussion Group announces that its next meeting will be held on Sunday evening, at 8:15 o'clock in the Art Gallery, when Dr. James T. Shotwell will speak on Security Through the United Nations.

Around the Village

Woodstock, July 1—Some of the guests at the evening party given on Saturday by Dave Hufline and Johnny Pike were Bert Wangler, Sam Wiley, Wilma Hervey, Nan Mason, Ben Webster, Mr. and Mrs. Roland d'Albis, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Chavez, Bruce Curry, Mr. and Mrs. Phil FitzPatrick, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Cherry, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Carey, Frank and Denny Chase, Maude and Miska Petersham, Alexandra Padwa, Kay and Milton Wagenfohr.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Chaplin are in Woodstock visiting his mother, Mrs. Stewart Chaplin.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Wetterau, Bronxville, are in their summer home on the Glasco Turnpike.

Vera Gray is visiting Mrs. Warren Townley who will be in Woodstock for the summer months.

Mrs. A. M. Wiley has been in Woodstock for a few days visiting friends.

Mrs. Cornelius V. V. Sewell, Sr., has fully recovered from her recent accident and is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Sewell, Jr., in Byrdcliffe.

Linda Lilly entertained many of her young friends at her home on Friday evening including Clark Bell, Connie Egan, Mickey Delmayer, Richard Shultis, Audrey Webster, Helen Ostrander, Bob Krause, Judy Wagenfohr and others.

Jerry Jeronimek will go to Washington in the near future to complete his mural work at the French Restaurant. The murals portray scenes from Alsace-Lorraine peasant life.

The Saturday night dances at the country club are very popular. Allen's orchestra furnishes the music for these festive occasions.

Percy Holt has returned from Texas and will be with Dave Meyers for the summer.

Henry Manierre gave a cocktail party on Saturday afternoon for Robert Elwyn. Also included were Mrs. Margaret Kenyon, Mrs. Clara Chichester, Miss Jean Pearson, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Knight and others.

At a tea party on Monday afternoon, Dorothy Ratterman entertained Mrs. C. L. Gannon, Mercy Ann Hillman, Marguerite Graham, Mrs. Edward Dullmayer, Mrs. Lou Kreyer and Mrs. J. J. Cosgrove.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil FitzPatrick entertained at a dinner party on Saturday evening for Dr. and Mrs. Edwin Berry Burgum, prior to the Discussion Group meeting at the Art Gallery when Dr. Burgum was the guest speaker. His topic was The Liberal's Dilemma. Other guests at dinner included Marilyn Stone, Miss Richison, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Ludins, Mr. and Mrs. Wendy Jones, Herman Cherry, Denny Winters, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Walther, Mrs. Vladimir Padwa, Dick Burlingame and Mr. and Mrs. Tomas Penning.

Miss Hallie Beavers, who has been the house guest of Miss B. Sturtevant Gardner at her home near Woodstock, left yesterday for Washington. Miss Beavers arrived in New York June 11 on the Panama Line for the canal zone.

Upon arriving at the home of Vincent Moore, Glenford, Friday about midnight, the Woodstock Fire Company found sparks shooting in all directions from the chimney. Speedy work on the part of the firemen soon brought the chimney fire under control and in a short time it had been extinguished.

New York, July 1 (AP)—Harold R. Medina, attorney, was inducted today as the United States district judge for the Southern District of New York by Federal Judge Henry W. Goddard. Medina recently was named to the post by President Truman and his appointment was confirmed by the Senate.

'Heartbeat' to Be Seen at Show

Miss Barbara Striebel, of Woodstock, outstanding Conover model, is pretty as ever in this Rae Barth original to be seen at the Fashion Show at the Town House, Woodstock, July 5. Besides Miss Striebel, other Woodstockers taking part in the initial showing of Rae's 1947 fall originals are Sandra Roome, Marilyn Fier, Nancy Chase, Ellen O'Meara, Deirdre O'Meara, Judy Seaton, Jean Lasher, Margaret White, Pat Caunitz, Kathleen Coletti, Barbara Schwartz, Mary Riley, Ann Fitzsimmons, Hannah Barth and Louise Fabry. For some time, Rae's original designs have been sold by Bergdorf Goodman, Jay Thorpe, and Rusks in New York.

An electric line project is underway in the mountain road and Coons neighborhood section of Shokan.

Travel on the reservoir road and Route 28 was fairly heavy Sunday afternoon, but observers opined that the really big influx of cars will take place on the coming holiday week-end.

The Ashokan baseball team defeated the New Paltz High nine on the home grounds Sunday afternoon by the score of 7-3. Owens and Dubois formed the battery for the home team. Bernard Casablanca, a summer resident, has been elected manager of the Ashokans.

Donald North, K.H.S. student, left Shokan Sunday for Highmount where he has vacation employment at a large boys' camp.

July 1, 1913: Civil War veterans in attendance at the Gettysburg 50th anniversary celebration include Granville Boice, Hugh Donohue and Asa Bishop of South Olive and Irwin Winne and Joseph She-lightner of Shokan. Also joining the great encampment was James Walton, Phoenixia veteran, who formerly resided at Olive Branch. Mrs. H. Lukacs returned to Jackson Heights Sunday following a week's sojourn at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emerich Lukacs.

Current K.H.S. graduates from this section include Beverly El-mendorf, Duane Winne, Velma Personous and George Seior.

Our Old Timer reports that the brook trout are biting much better with the advent of hot weather. O. T. further states that he had to dig in half a dozen places before he found worms, and "when worms are that scarce a feller can generally count on some pretty brisk fishing."

Ray Cudney of Ashokan has employment on the Robeson place at Brown's Station hill.

It's a Fact: The first tavern in Olive was kept by Conrad Dubois at Olive City. Early store-keepers were Michael Coons, Richard Lane, Lemuel Winchell and George Bunkerhoff. First physicians in the town were Drs. Connelly, Quinlan and McClellan.

Letters Stay at 3 Cents.

Washington, July 1 (AP)—The three-cent postage rate on letters will continue indefinitely under terms of a bill signed late yesterday by President Truman. Without the new legislation the rate would have dropped last midnight to two cents on letters for local delivery.

Dense Population

People are more closely packed together in Hong Kong than in any other listed area in the world. The density of population in that area is 2187 persons to the square mile.

Army's First Six-Jet Bomber

The Air Force's first six-jet bomber, the XB-48, taking off at the Glenn L. Martin airport, Baltimore, Md., on its initial flight gives a frontal view of the six jet intakes, and two sets of retractable wheels mounted in tandem, with outrigger wheels that fold into the wings. The plane's speed is listed at over 480 miles an hour, bomb load over 10 tons. Tactical flight radius is over 800 miles, or about half that of a Superfortress.

Character in Tongue
A French scientist contended that if the tongue is long, it denotes frankness; if broad, expansiveness; if narrow, concentration; and, if long and wide, a weakness for gossiping.

DO NOT CHEW POISON IVY LEAVES

This dangerous method of building up resistance to Poison Ivy was used by some Indians. If YOU are subject to attacks of Poison Ivy or Poison Oak, DON'T WAIT! Get a bottle of RHUDBON, a pleasant medicine for internal use, made from an extract of fresh green poison ivy leaves, and use as directed. Available at United Cut Rate, Franklin and Central Pharmacies and drug stores everywhere.

How to Make Iced Tea

Make tea as usual, but double strength to allow for making ice. While still hot, pour into glasses filled with cracked ice. . . . Add sugar and lemon to taste.

Turns Coal Into Electricity at 100 MPH

Newest "giant of the rails" from Baldwin Locomotive Works, Philadelphia, Pa., is this revolutionary 150-foot, 6000-horsepower locomotive which combines principles of conventional steam boiler, steam turbine, and electric drive. Heat energy of coal is transformed into steam, which generators convert into 4000 kilowatts of electric power—good for 100-mile-an-hour travel. It made its debut as a C. & O. unit at the Railroad Show in Atlantic City.

COTTEKILL

Cottekill, June 30—The 15th annual commencement exercises of the Cottekill School were held June 20 in the school auditorium. The program follows:

Closing day greeting, Elizabeth Davis; flag salute, Gerald Styles; singing of the Star Spangled Banner followed by a prayer led by John Meyer; songs, America, Onward Christian Soldiers and Battle Hymn of the Republic, the school; a Closing Day Thought, Robert Hicks; song, America, the Beautiful by Franklin Weisler; Irene Mohr, Eleanor Conner and Arthur Freer; Loretta Pessler accompanied at the piano.

The march of the graduates, John Terwilliger, John Curci, Joseph Marx and Leroy Terwilliger, followed. The Rev. Albert Shults, pastor of the Rosendale Reformed Church, was the guest speaker and William Conner, president of the board of trustees, presented the diplomas. Mrs. Edna Davis, principal, awarded the following prizes:

Snyder prize for highest regents in English; John Terwilliger, Ruth W. Basten prize for highest regents in mathematics.

John Curci, the Elizabeth and George Lacy prize from Mrs. Edna Davis in memory of her father and mother. Prize awarded to the student in higher grades who made the most progress in spite of various handicaps throughout the eight grades such as changing schools, illness and make-up work. Robert Hicks, book prize for highest average in spelling from Mrs. Basten; Margaret Osterhoudt, book prize for perfect attendance from Mrs. Basten. Certificate awards were given to the following pupils by the National Board of Examiners: at Bridgeport, Illinois: John Gould, Elizabeth Davis and Stanley Temple, Grade 1; Malcolm Lyons, Kenneth Osterhoudt, Eugene Temple, Anna Marie Friedlein, Grade 2; Linda Raush, Margaret Osterhoudt, John Burns, Carol Raush, Grade 3; Walter Bush, Ronald Temple, Robert Hicks, Richard Gould and Arthur DePuy, Grade 4; Pauline Terwilliger, Loretta Pessler, Grade 5; Geraldine Quick, Eleanor Conner, Arthur Freer, Grade 6; Irene Mohr, Robert Hendrickson, Junior High, Grade 7; Elizabeth Every, John Curci, Joseph Marx, Grade 8. Mrs. Vernon Davis presented a piano to the school. John Curci, on behalf of the graduates, presented corsages to the teachers, an orchid to Mrs. Davis, and red rosebuds to Mrs. Basten, primary teacher.

Colorful Cabbage

Acidity or alkalinity of the cooking water influences the coloring matter of red cabbage, so you can serve it in various hues. It is purplish if cooked in ordinary water; with vinegar added it is red; a pinch of soda, and it's blue; or it will be green if much soda is added.

New 25-Cent Airmailer

This woman leads a double life!

And likes it, too! Confidentially, she's a married woman . . . but this little electric clock gives her the kind of "double life" that every woman wants—a well-managed, well-run home with time for leisure, too.

Come to think of it, where do you spend most of your working time? Why, in the kitchen, of course, preparing three meals a day! With this Electric Timer Clock and an Electric Casserole you can cut hours from your kitchen working time.

For instance, take this woman. Here she is with gloves on ready to go . . . we don't know where—her bridge club, the movies or just out shopping. The point is she's now performing the final act to gain the rest of the afternoon for herself. She has filled her casserole with food and is now setting the times when cooking is to start and to stop. When she does this she needn't bother her head about it until mealtime.

This way of automatic electric cooking leads to more than a double life—it's a wonderful life! And you can have a FREE TRIAL of this wonderful life! Just fill and mail or deliver this coupon. It entitles you to a FREE TRIAL of a timer clock and casserole in your own home for a period of time. Do it now! No obligation, of course.

Discover Chinese Dishes for Hot Weather Meals

Mushroom chow mein makes an ideal hot weather dish.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer
Looking for a surprise for your hot weather guests? Then peek into a Chinese kitchen.

Mushroom Chow Mein

(Serves 4)
Four tablespoons butter or fortified margarine, 2 green peppers, 3 stalks celery, 2 large onions, 1 cup boiling salted water, 1 cup cooked chicken or tuna, 1 dozen almonds, 4-ounce can sliced mushrooms, steamed rice, soy sauce.

Wash peppers, halve, remove seeds and slice into long, thin strips. Wash celery and slice diagonally into thin strips down the grain of the onions. Put vegetables into saucepan, add boiling salted water, and cook quickly until tender, or until water is almost absorbed. Add chicken or tuna, cut into strips, and continue cooking until heated through. Blanch and slice almonds into long thin strips; sauté with mushrooms (drained from liquid) in 2 tablespoons of the butter or margarine. Arrange steamed rice in bottom of serving dish. Top with vegetables. Add toasted almonds and mushrooms. Serve with soy sauce.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Orange juice, fish cakes, cornbread, butter, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Mushroom chow mein, steamed rice, thin rice cakes, tea, milk.

HOT NIGHT DINNER: Clam and tomato bouillon, crackers, cold boiled salmon, mayonnaise, sliced cucumbers, potato salad, crisp rolls or French bread, butter or fortified margarine, cantaloupe with vanilla ice cream, coffee, milk.

Shrimp With Mushrooms.

Ruby Foo
(Serves 4)

Two tablespoons oil or fat, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 pound shrimp, 1 pound mushrooms, ½ cup chicken bouillon, 2 tablespoons cornstarch, 2 teaspoon soy sauce, ¼ cup water.

Place the oil or fat, salt and shrimp in preheated heavy 10-inch frying pan. (To prepare shrimp, remove shells, clean and quarter.) Cook over moderately hot flame, stirring constantly, for 5 minutes. Dice and add mushrooms. Add chicken bouillon. Cover pan tightly and cook over low flame for 5 minutes. Blend together and add the cornstarch, soy sauce and water. Cook for a few more minutes, stirring constantly, until juice thickens and mixture is very hot. Serve immediately with hot, boiled rice.

10,000 Municipalities Reduce Bonded Debt

Albany, N. Y., July 1 (AP)—The gross bonded debt of the nearly 10,000 municipalities in New York state has been reduced by 3/23 per cent.

The municipalities paid off $118,567,650 in 1946, Comptroller Frank C. Moore reported yesterday, to bring the net total at the end of the year to $2,829,878,590. The peak year was 1940 when the net total for all municipalities stood at $3,384,717,060.

Including sinking funds, which Moore said were created to offset future debt payments, the total reduction in the bonded debt of all municipalities was $153,668,335. This, he said, was a reduction of 5.15 per cent from the 1945 total. Counties reduced their indebtedness by 8.8 per cent, towns, 8.79 per cent and villages, 9.87 per cent.

Flood Crest Forces

area were evacuated two weeks ago.

Reaches 39.6 Feet
As the flood devastation began to hit this entire area hard, the Mississippi, fed by the latest rains, rose to 39.6 feet last night. Earlier in the day it had hit 39.3 for the highest level in 103 years, then receded briefly following the failure of the Chouteau Island levee on the Illinois side, north of St. Louis.

The Chouteau Island levee's collapse caused flooding of over 2,000 acres.

Last night's downpour flooded many St. Louis streets and electric service to 2,000 St. Louis county homes was disrupted.

The Weather Bureau reported a rainfall of 2.1 inches was recorded in slightly over three hours. The downpour followed by less than 24 hours one of the most severe earthquakes ever recorded here. The quake, however, did little damage.

Flood damage to metropolitan

St. Louis was largely confined to the warehouse and industrial districts along the waterfront. The retail district is on high ground. The St. Louis district engineers' office estimated floods have caused damage of $8,741,000 between Louisiana, Mo., and Cairo, Ill., with a total of 333,000 acres inundated. About half of the flood area was under cultivation.

Prepared to Act

New York, July 1 (AP)—Rep. Fred Hartley (R-N.J.), chairman of the House Labor Committee, said he was prepared to act swiftly if the Taft-Hartley Law "is not administered honestly and to the fullest extent possible" in the event of a coal stoppage. "In the event the section of the law which deals with public safety and public health is flouted," Hartley said, "I plan to have the committee report the section of the original bill which deals with monopolistic practices." Hartley arrived here at noon to speak tonight before the annual convention of the National Association of Personnel Directors and said he would discuss the coal situation in his address.

Alleged Gamblers Released on Bail; 6 Arrested Monday

Six defendants who were arraigned in County Court Monday morning on charges of being common gamblers and endangering the morals of persons under 16 years of age, supplied bail Monday and were released from custody.

Sam Astolas, Jr., Edward Fenton and Louis Levine posted $1,500 property bail and Shale Alcon, George Netling and Walter Hamilton posted $1,000 cash bail with the county treasurer.

The six men were arrested Monday by sheriff's deputies assisted by member of the Kingston police force on bench warrants issued out of County Court and arraigned in County Court where pleas of innocence were entered. The arrests were made following investigation of charges that gambling was going on in the woods near the Rondout creek bridge entrance in the town of Esopus. The facts secured by Sheriff George C. Smith and his deputies were presented to the June grand jury and the indictments returned.

Abraham Streifer appeared for all six defendants.

Shipyard Strike

Sullivan Dry Dock and Repair Yards at Brooklyn, with 1,500 employees.

Last minute negotiations were conducted yesterday by the union with the two companies but they collapsed.

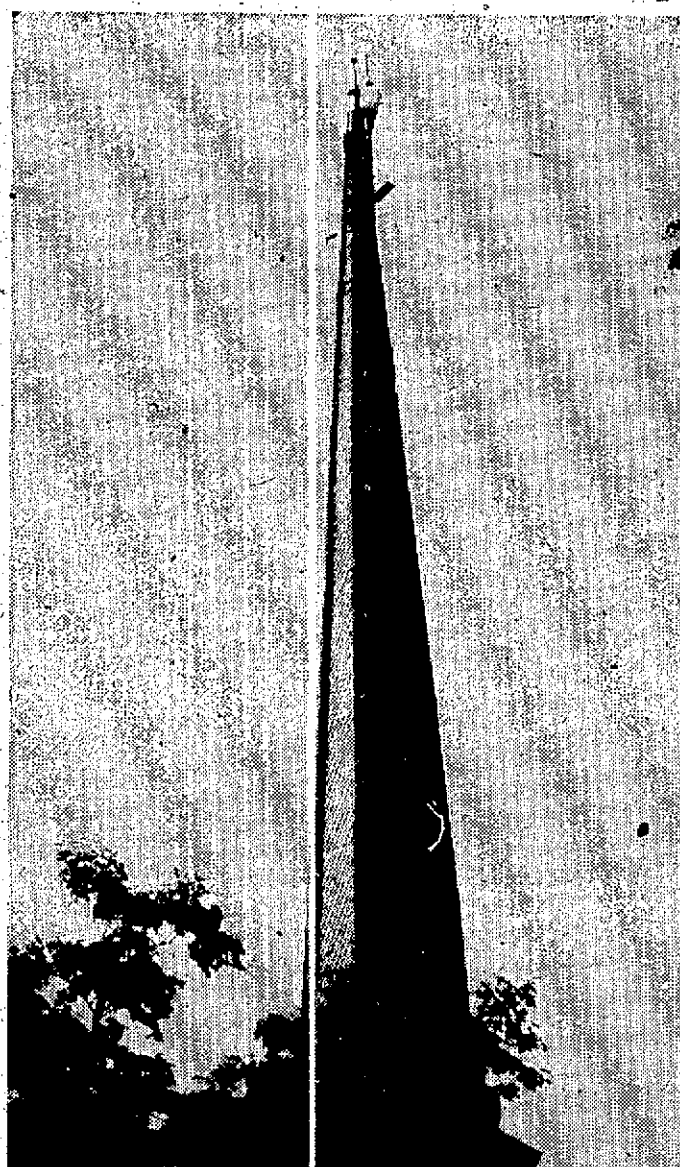

The union seeks a 13-cent hourly wage increase, six paid holidays a year, and three-week paid vacation after 20 years' employment. Skilled workers receive $1.38 an hour and laborers 94 cents under present contracts.

The union said the only major yards on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts not affected by the new strike are the Todd Shipyard Corporation yards in Hoboken, N. J., and the Andrew Higgins yard in New Orleans where contract extensions do not expire for another 23 days.

Soviet Has Mansion in N.Y.

New York, July 1 (AP)—The Russian government has acquired a 32-room mansion on the upper east side of Manhattan for its consular staff. The property, a five-story dwelling with two elevators, had been assessed for $320,000 but it was reported the Russians had paid more than that for the building, formerly owned by Mrs. Percy Rivington Pyne.

away with necessary aids to housing." He added:

"It is intolerable that this lobby should be permitted by its brazen operations to block programs so essential to the needs of our citizens. Nothing could be more clearly subversive of representative government. I urge the Congress to make a full investigation of this selfish and short-sighted group."

This and his blast against the rent bill brought a sharp retort from House Republican Leader Hallett (Ind.), who asserted: "President Truman's message is shameful. He has reached a new low in his efforts to appease the Wallace gang and hold their support for the election in 1948."

Reference to Wallace

This was a reference to former Vice President Henry A. Wallace, who has been talking of the possibility of a third party.

In condemning the provision which authorizes rent increases up to 15 per cent when the tenant and landlord agree to a lease running through 1948, Mr. Truman contended this is "voluntary only so far as the landlord is concerned." The tenant, he added, "naturally will fear that unless he enters into such a lease he will be subjected to even more exorbitant increases when rent control is ended" March 1.

Senator Hawkes (R-N.J.), author of the 15 per cent increase provision, replied to Mr. Truman's criticism with the contention that the section "carries no coercive advantage for the property owner." Hawkes said it simply provides "relief long overdue" landlords.

Hawkes pointed out that a tenant is not required to agree to a boost. However, he might risk a bigger increase next March 1 by refusing.

No Arbitrary Evictions

Under the law, a tenant may not be evicted arbitrarily if he refuses to agree to the boost. Landlords who seek to evict tenants may go straight to court instead of applying through local rent control administrators as in the past.

Evictions are permitted if the tenant is immoral or a nuisance, or if the landlord wants the property for his own use or wants to remodel or demolish it, or sell it to someone who wants to move in. Taft agreed with the New Jersey senator that "there is nothing coercive" about the 15 per cent section. "If tenants don't want to sign, they don't have to," Taft said.

Laid Down Policy

Early in May Ramadier laid down a policy of freezing wages in the interest of helping stabilize the French economic structure. The Communists opposed him, and when Ramadier called for a vote of confidence over this important issue in the General Assembly the Communists refused to join in granting it. They felt secure in their great strength and virtually invited Ramadier to challenge them further.

The premier gave them a quick answer. He fired the five Communist ministers out of his cabinet, and his Socialist Party sustained him in this action.

However, that didn't worry the Reds—not right away. Actually it suited them perfectly, because they expected to be able to maneuver so that Ramadier would be compelled to recall them to the cabinet, thereby increasing their prestige.

It hasn't worked out that way, though. Imperial observers say that the Communist Party has lost much ground, including perhaps a fifth of the votes heretofore accorded them in general elections. Their opponents say they tried to force Ramadier's hand by instigating a series of strikes, which they called off after Communist power had been demonstrated. But the grand coup—the general railway strike for higher wages—backfired. The railroad workers not only paralyzed rail transport throughout the country but refused to obey Communist orders and quit until Ramadier granted them higher wages on June 12.

Thus at the present writing the Red stock and strength is much lower, and the government's is much higher. Whether this trend will continue depends largely on the government's success in making economic repairs, and that in turn may depend on what economic aid France can secure through the Marshall program for European economic rehabilitation.

G. T. Summerlin Dies

Washington, July 1 (AP)—George T. Summerlin, 74, chief of protocol at the State Department from July, 1937, until his retirement in February of last year, died today at the Bethesda Naval Hospital. He was a native of Rayville, La.

Edison Officials Hits Mark-Ups On New Appliances

New York, July 1 (AP)—Assailing what he called "unjustified mark-ups" on some appliances, E. F. Jaffe, vice-president in charge of sales for Consolidated Edison Co., said today that "a sales resistance is being built up which will have to be overcome."

Addressing a meeting of the company's dealers, Jaffe said percentage mark-ups pyramiding at each trade level were causing customers to "weigh carefully the cost of replacement against the cost of repairs."

"A prosperous appliance industry cannot exist from sales for emergency replacement only," he said, "and that is what we are facing today. The purchase of new appliances is lagging."

He said a survey of 1,506 customers who ordered washers disclosed only 453 now desired delivery and that 75 percent of those who canceled did so because they "considered the price too high."

Citing a recent retail price increase of $40 for a nationally advertised appliance, Jaffe said this had resulted from an increase of $27 in the price from manufacturer to dealer, and added:

"The dealer, in this instance, made an added net profit of $13, as he did not perform one additional function or have any additional expenses over those costs effected before the price was raised. It is evident that the increased charge of $40 to the customer far exceeded the expenses of the manufacturer, and was brought about through the percentage mark-up system of pricing."

Customers are perfectly willing, Jaffe continued, "to pay justified increases, but during readjustment periods they do not look with favor upon added profits from price increases."

Body Found in Tub
New York, July 1 (AP)—The body of John M. Curtis, 53, Summit, N. J., was found today submerged in the bathtub of a room at the Columbia University Club. Police said death apparently was due to natural causes. Curtis registered at the club last night, was graduated from Columbia in 1917 and was a member of the club, police said.

Hassett Is Better

Washington, July 1 (AP)—The White House said today that Presidential Secretary William D. Hassett was "better" this morning after a "difficult night." Hassett, 66, was removed to Walter Reed Army Hospital yesterday after he suffered a stomach hemorrhage at the White House.

The World Today

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

French Minister of the Interior

Edouard Depreux's announcement of a Black Maquis plot—to overthrow the republic and establish a military dictatorship—is couched

in such guarded terms that it leaves much to the imagination,

though the statement is in all conscience grave enough on the face of it.

The political situation in France is highly complicated, and in order to find the real significance of this ugly revolutionary scheme

we must consider it in its relation to the entire picture rather than separately. When we do that we shall find, I believe, that the most important aspect of the plot is that it's another of those phenomena which indicate France is swinging back toward the right after a steep leftist nosedive.

M. Depreux tells us that the Black Maquis comprises right wing resistance leaders, monarchists and vicy, collaborationists.

Why should they want to establish a dictatorship?

Well, it strikes me we don't have to look far for their main answer. They have been disastried with the country's leftist

swing which for a time permitted

the Communists to gain such power that the outside world wondered whether France was about to become a part of the Russian sphere of influence. In addition the political disabilities, the nation has been struggling in an economic morass. Some extreme rightists have felt that a dictatorship would eliminate political confusion and also permit more efficient handling of the economic problems.

So much for the Maquis. We can leave them to the French government which, M. Depreux informs us, intends to push its investigation "to its final conclusion, no matter how important a personage is found to be involved."

As a matter of fact another phenomenon has developed during the past few weeks which has bid fair to take care of the Communist threat without need of recourse to strong arm methods of revolutionaries. A couple of months ago

France's mild-mannered Socialist

Premier Ramadier surprised the world with a sensational revolt against the powerful Communist Party which held important reinsteries in the Coalition Government.

Laid Down Policy

Early in May Ramadier laid down a policy of freezing wages

in the interest of helping stabilize the French economic structure.

The Communists opposed him, and when Ramadier called for a vote of confidence over this important issue in the General Assembly the Communists refused to join in granting it. They felt secure in their great strength and virtually invited Ramadier to challenge them further.

The premier gave them a quick answer. He fired the five Communist ministers out of his cabinet, and his Socialist Party sustained him in this action.

However, that didn't worry the Reds—not right away. Actually it served them perfectly, because they expected to be able to maneuver so that Ramadier would be compelled to recall them to the cabinet, thereby increasing their prestige.

It hasn't worked out that way

though. Imperial observers say that the Communist Party has lost much ground, including perhaps a fifth of the votes heretofore accorded them in general elections. Their opponents say they tried to force Ramadier's hand by instigating a series of strikes, which they called off after Communist power had been demonstrated. But the grand coup—the general railway strike for higher wages—backfired. The railroad workers not only paralyzed rail

transport throughout the country

but refused to obey Communist

Estimate Security Force
Lake Success, July 1 (AP)—Despite strong Russian objections, most members of the United Nations Security Council agreed today they had made progress toward a world security force by getting actual figures from the U. N. Military Staff Committee. Officers from the United States, Britain and France submitted yesterday, after a two-hour meeting here, their ideas on what force would be necessary to maintain world peace. The United States delegation said that this force should be at least 3,800 warplanes, 20 divisions of ground troops, three battleships, and six carriers.

Will Continue His Post
Albany, N. Y., July 1 (AP)—M. P. Catherwood, who has resigned as state commerce commissioner to become dean of the State School of Industrial and Labor Relations at Cornell University, will continue as head of the State Department for another 60 days, it was learned today. Catherwood was asked by Governor Dewey to stay on pending appointment of his successor in the $15,000-a-year job. His appointment as dean became effective today. Catherwood will not draw the salary as dean during his extra tenure as commissioner. He reportedly will be paid $12,000 as successor to U. S. Senator Irving M. Ives in the deanship.

PREACH YE UPON THE HOUSETOPS

To "arouse millions of Rip Van Christians" the Rev. William Hainsworth, 5-year-old pastor of the Dexter (Mich.) Congregational Church, who follows literally the Biblical injunction "preach ye upon the house-tops," plans a cross-country tour to the West Coast. He makes one condition—low rooftops. Last year he nearly fell off the top of the Dexter Coffee Shop. Photos below show him delivering recent house-top sermon at Milan, Mich.

A man's heart deviseth his way: but the Lord directeth his steps.
(Proverbs 16:9)

He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.
(Mark 4:9)

For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts than your thoughts.
(Isaiah 55:9)

Denies Asking Advice

Stuttgart, Germany, July 1 (AP)—Gen. Lucius D. Clay emphatically denied today that American occupation authorities have asked the advice of Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, Hitler's former finance minister, on how to revive Germany's shattered economy. "Schacht's recent intervention was only in connection with the Nuremberg war crimes trials," Clay said in response to a news conference question. "We are not interested in his economic ideas, we certainly don't want the kind he worked out for the Nazis. Schacht, now serving an eight-year denazification sentence, hinted broadly in a recent interview that 'high American authorities' had sought his economic advice. 'I sometimes think Schacht likes to hear himself talk,' Clay said.

Neither Male Nor Female

London, July 1 (AP)—The ninth Earl of Shaftesbury wrote an erudite letter to The Times today declaring authoritatively that the aluminum statue known as "Eros" is neither male nor female. It's neither, he said, and the Earl should know because he was there when Eros was unveiled in 1893 as a monument to his grandfather, the seventh Earl of Shaftesbury. Eros is back on "its" pedestal in Piccadilly Circus after a wartime refuge in the country. Since its return last week, it has drawn throngs of delighted people.

Soldier Is Killed

Shreveport, La., July 2 (AP)—The Barbedale Field Public Relations Office said today that a staff sergeant on an unauthorized flight in a B-17 was killed early today when the plane crashed three miles south of Sibley, La. The name of the man was withheld pending notification of relatives. The public relations office said, however, the body found in the plane had been identified as that of the non-commissioned officer, who was crew chief of the crashed plane.

Alphonse Jeffs, 47, of Brightwood, N. J., was arrested by State Police Monday and arraigned before Justice of the Peace John O. Beaver of Essex where a 30-day jail sentence was imposed on a public intoxication charge.

Workers Are Laid Off

Washington, July 1 (AP)—The Southern Railway System reported today it has laid off "between 3,000 and 3,500" workers because of the bituminous coal miners' vacation.

Financial and Commercial

New York, July 1 (AP)—Recovery continued to dominate today's stock market with selected oils and industrials touching new highs for the year or longer.

Prices stiffened in virtually all departments after irregularity in the first hour. The pace quickened for a while but subsequent slow intervals were plentiful. Gains running to 2 points or so were reduced in most cases near the fourth hour.

Brokers suggested that short covering by those who desired a safer position over the forthcoming long week-end accounted for much of the forenoon strength. Optimism over business, hopes for settlement of the coal dispute and the idea of a normal summer rally inspired buying. Labor situations and confusing international affairs, however, still were restraining factors.

At tops for 1947 were Socory, Texas Co., Shamrock Oil, Standard Oil of Cal., Texas Gulf Producing, Chrysler and Joy Mfg. In front were Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Southern Railway, Southern Railway, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, U. S. Rubber, Montgomery Ward, International Harvester, American Smelting, Westinghouse, Allied Chemical, U. S. Gypsum, Johns-Manville, American Woolen and Atlantic Refining.

Railway bonds did better. Cotton slipped but grains strengthened.

Madam Peron Lifts Franco's Morale

Closer co-operation between Spain and Argentina—possibly foreshadowing a new "bloc" of Latin nations—is symbolized in this picture of Madam Eva Peron, wife of the Argentine President, who with folded hands addresses a throng in Madrid while Dictator Francisco Franco, in similar pose, stands beside her, his morale lifted by her statement that "as long as one single stalk of wheat grows in our wheat fields the workers of Spain know that we will share it with them."

Soft Coal Owners Want Government To Revoke Contract

Washington, July 1 (AP)—Soft coal operators, in full possession of their mines for the first time in more than a year, looked to the government today to revoke contract talks with John L. Lewis in time to avert a new strike July 8.

The miners' 10-day vacation ends next Tuesday, and only a wage pact with the operators—or a court injunction under the new Taft-Hartley labor law—appears likely to head off another walkout of the 400,000 bituminous coal diggers.

The pits were restored to private ownership yesterday, when the wartime powers under which they were seized expired. The government took over the mines in May, 1946, to end a 59-day strike.

As the operators gathered for what they hoped would be a week of head-to-head talks with Lewis' United Mine Workers, they declined to confirm reports that the big northern group had offered to meet the miners' full wage demands.

Lewis is asking a pay boost of 35 cents an hour, plus the Federal Mine Safety Code which he has worked under for the past year of government control, and a ten-cent royalty on each ton produced, for the union welfare and retirement fund.

The whole dispute seemed to have been held Monday morning at Secretary of Labor Schellenbach, appeared likely to step in. His Conciliation Service can offer its help any time between now and August 22. After that the new Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service set up by the Taft-Hartley law becomes operative.

Local Death Record

The funeral of Mrs. Anna Maine was held Monday morning at 8:15 from the James M. Murphy Funeral Home, and at St. Mary's Church 8:30 where a Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of her soul by the Rev. Francis Molony. Burial was in St. Mary's Cemetery, where Father Molony gave the final absolution at the grave.

A solemn Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of the soul of James T. O'Reilly, former alderman and sanitary inspector of this city, Monday morning at 10 o'clock in St. Mary's Church by the pastor, the Very Rev. Msgr. Martin J. Drury. The Rev. Henry E. Herdgen, assistant pastor of St. Peter's Church, and the Rev. Francis Molony, assistant pastor of St. Mary's, were the deacon and sub-deacon respectively. Seated in the chancel during the Mass was the Rev. George Fagan, pastor of St. Joseph's Church, New Paltz. Seminarian Edmund W. was the nephew of the deceased.

The responses to the Mass were sung by the children's choir of St. Mary's. The bearers were former Mayor Edgar J. Dempsey, Carl A. Weber, Edward Reynolds, Martin M. Mooney and Joseph Cahill.

Sunday evening members of the Holy Name Society, under the direction of the Spiritual Director Father Molony, The Right Rev. Msgr. S. P. Connelly, pastor of St. Joseph's Church, together with Dean Drury and Father Fagan, and Father Flaherty, offered prayers. A delegation of the Kingston Patrolmen's Association and representatives of the Fire Department also visited the home on Sunday to pay their final respects. The burial was in the O'Reilly family plot in St. Mary's Cemetery, where Monsignor Drury and Father Fagan pronounced the final absolution. Mr. O'Reilly, who died Friday was the brother of the late Judge N. Frank O'Reilly and Mrs. N. D. J. Murphy. He is survived by his widow, Loretta C. O'Reilly, a brother, John, and two sisters, Mrs. L. Samuel Miller and Miss Theresa A. O'Reilly, all of this city.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

Housing Problem Solved
Pearl River, N. Y., July 1 (AP)—Chief Fred Kennedy of the Orangetown police recently put up a scarecrow to keep birds out of his strawberry patch.

Yesterday he found that wrens had nested in a pocket of the scarecrow's jacket.

Man in White
New York, July 1 (AP)—Forty-eight years ago, Charles E. Orendonk stepped aboard a New York Central railroad train and began shoveling coal into the engine. He was wearing a crisply laundered white shirt and white collar.

Yesterday, he ended his railroading career at the age of 69, still wearing a white shirt and collar. His fellow workers said he was the only railroader they knew who worked as fireman, steam engineer and electric engineer and reported to work each day in a clean white shirt.

Fish Story
New Haven, Conn., July 1 (AP)—State Rep. Irving Horowitz buys his fish bait in fruit stores.

A year ago he jokingly told a nephew to put a chunk of orange peel on his hook. The nephew did and caught two fish.

Horowitz says he now carries half a dozen oranges for refreshment and bait when he goes fishing, and rarely comes home empty handed.

Safety Pins
Los Angeles, July 1 (AP)—Safety pins are the badge of safety now.

The Downtown Business Men's Association is sponsoring a traffic safety campaign and has asked safety-conscious men and women to wear safety pins in their lapel or on their dress as a symbol of their pledge to reduce "the grim ratio of 90 per cent carelessness."

Large, small, gold, tin—any sort of safety pin will do.

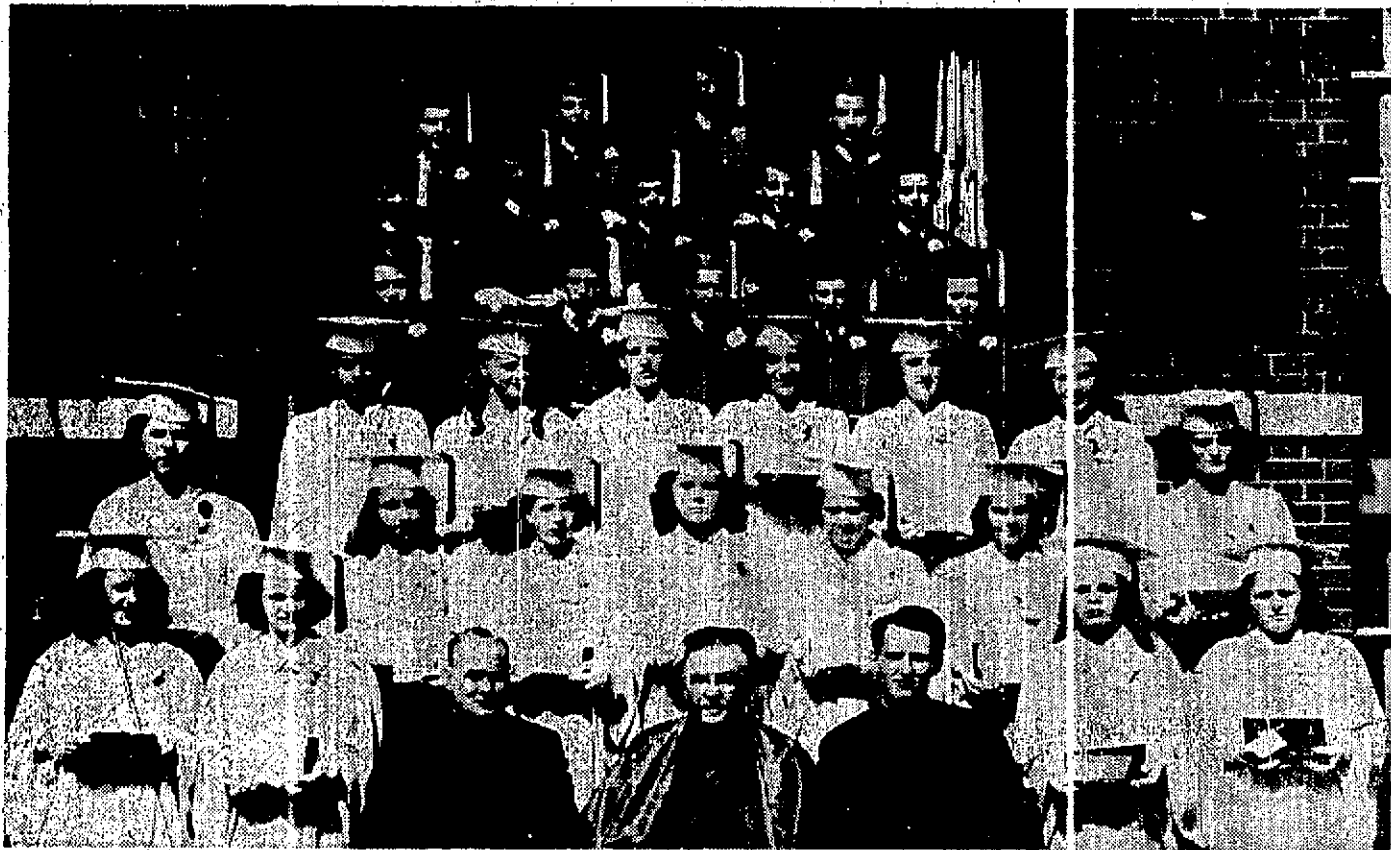

Home's in the Bag
Chicago, July 1 (AP)—A clothespin bag is home sweet home for two wrens.

Last year two wrens built their nest on top of some clothespins in the bag on a line in the yard of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Sinner in suburban Barrington and raised a family of three.

They returned yesterday and promptly started building a nest in the bag, which was empty.

Acclaims Marshall Plan
New York, July 1 (AP)—The Marshall plan for European recovery received backing today from Herbert H. Lehman, former director general of U.N.R.R.A., who acclaimed it as offering "the greatest likelihood of effective and practicable results."

Elizabethtown Flood

Elizabethtown, N. Y., July 1 (AP)—Elizabethtown residents were cleaning up their lawns and stores today after a dam on Denton pond burst following a torrential rainstorm and flooded part of this Essex county village. Bursting of the dam drained the pond, used for making ice, swept away an ice house and caused Barton brook to flow over its banks. Water about a foot deep coursed down Water street and damaged a supermarket, the post office and several other stores.

CLINTON P. ANDERSON
Secretary of Agriculture Says:

American Women—

Your Used Fats Are Still Needed!

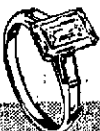

America's homemakers have saved and turned in over 600 million pounds of used cooking fats since 1942. This is an average of nearly 20 pounds for each family in the United States. It is a record of which every woman can be proud.

However, it is still necessary to conserve every pound of fat, since the over-all fat supply situation is little better now than it was last year when we were desperately short, particularly of industrial fats.

Manufacture of many of the things we all use and wear in our daily lives requires industrial fats or the products of industrial fats. Used cooking fats turned in by American women have been and continue to represent an important part of our total industrial fats supply. Every pound of salvaged fat helps meet the need.

Dodgers Edge Poconos in Eleventh, 5 to 4; Play Two Tonight

Hurler's Error on Easy Play Decides Three-Hour Contest

Pat Sharkey, Stroudsburg's fire-balling right hander, who throws like Spud Chandler and bats like Babe Ruth may lose a lot of tough ball games before his pitching days are over, but few will hurt as much as the 5-4 setback the Kingston Dodgers tagged on him last night before 600 fans at municipal stadium.

The three-hour, eleven-inning marathon ended about 11:30 p. m., with Mr. Sharkey groping futilely for the handle on Bobby Newhart's bouncer in front of home plate, while Chris Kitsos raced across home plate with the winning run.

Lead by Five Games

The Kingston victory, coupled with Peekskill's even split with Carbondale, added a half game to the Dodgers' league lead, now five full games.

Mr. Sharkey's painful experience climaxed a long, dragged-out affair that saw Lefty Ken Braun kayaked with an almost certain victory in his grasp in the ninth. Johnny Zigmund relieved but it required a yeoman stint by Alton Gilbert to nail down the victory. With the aid of Sharkey's fielding lapse, of course.

Fans 11 Men

Sharkey gave up only five hits and struck out 11 batters over the last eight innings. Every time he tried to give something away the Dodgers walked right in and took it.

Braun, in quest of his eighth win, led 4-1 when Stroudsburg came to bat in the ninth. Successsive walks to Schick and Kopsic, the No. 7 and 8 batters, were the handwriting on the wall. Sharkey lined sharply to Orleman in center field for the first out. Eshoo, hitless in four trips, shot a wicked liner to right, scoring Schick but was nailed at second on the relay. Kopsic going to third. Santora's clothesline shot to right looked like an ordinary single but at the last second it bounced away from Tom Donnelly and rolled to the embankment in right center. Santora completed the circuit for a homer tying the score at 4-4.

Braun was relieved by Zigmund, who got Polinski on a force play to end the frame after walking Marshall. Zigmund escaped damage until the ninth when successive errors by Newhart and Orleman put runners on first and third with two out. Gilbert came in and got the dangerous Polinski on a tap to the box.

The Back Breaker
Kitsos, impotent as a left handed batter, tried it from the right side and walked with one away in Kingston's eleventh. Sharkey heaped woes on himself by plunking Antonetz in the midriff and then moved up both runners with a wild pitch. Zigmund's attempt to squeeze in Kitsos was too hard and he was tossed out by Sharkey while the runners held their bases. After Kerr walked to load the bases with two out, Newhart tapped a simple dribbler a few feet out in front of the plate. Sharkey made a couple of futile stabs at the ball, then threw up his hands in utter disgust as fleet footed Kitsos streaked across the plate with the winning run.

Sharkey's generosity caught up with him in the fourth after three perfect innings. Kowalski, Williams and Donnelly walked to load the sacks. Orleman bounced to third and Kowalski scored the first run. After Kitsos fanned, Rudy Antonetz plunked a banjo double inside the foul line just beyond first base and Kingston led 3-0. Stroudsburg's first marker in the sixth was legitimate enough. Dick Marshall tripled 350-feet to center and scored on Polinski's single over second.

Ace Hurler Works Tonight

Joe Seber, Stroudsburg's ace hurler, who tops the North Atlantic League in every department except the won and loss percentages, is scheduled to pitch in one of the games against Kingston tonight at municipal stadium. Seber leads in earned run averages, strikeouts and shutouts.

Former Major League Midget Dies in Albany

Albany, N. Y., July 1 (AP)—Melton "Mellie" Wolfgang, 57, one of the smallest pitchers ever to hurl in the Major Leagues, died yesterday.

Wolfgang, who stood only five feet, six inches and who weighed around 155 pounds, was a right-hander for the Chicago White Sox from 1914-18, and before that pitched for Albany in the old New York State League. He retired from baseball about 1919.

New York — Johnny Thomas, 197, Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., out-pitched George Kochan, 179, Akron, Ohio, 8.

FAMOUS LAST WORDS . . . of the week-end duffers' fiesta at Wiltwyck. . . "Tongue beats Cashin" . . . No news there. . . Some day, "the old Judge" is going to spring an upset and the printer's devils will rush to the attic for the wooden type. . . Wiltwyck's two successive triumphs by 31 1/2 to 19 1/2 was a tribute to the virtue of consistency. . . The scores were almost tailor-made, although the number of shutouts showed a sharp decline over last week. . . Wiltwyck's ladies and the house staff put on the feed tag in royal style. . . Schmid, one of Wiltwyck's hardest workers, along with Claude Needes, passed up his match, in order to keep the refreshments moving at a fast pace.

Alex Gerlak Still An Ace . . .

Alex Gerlak may have retired from the money circuit but the Twain skill pro still retains uncanny skill. . . His first round of 35 was marked by birdies on four and five and bogeys on No. 3 and No. 6. . . He birdied No. 4 and No. 5 the second time around and struck bogies on No. 8 and No. 9. . . Tommy Danaher was in there with 39-40-79. . . "The Boss" twice birdied No. 1. . . The clubhouse gallery gave the pro-president combinations—Gerlak and Ray Suttil, and Danaher-Ray Le Fevre a round of applause as they approached the 18th green. . . Suttil came storming down the fairway in one of those dazzling multi-colored shirts. . . He looked much like a prosperous dude-rancher. . . We didn't say he played like one, even if that's what you're thinking. . . Danaher was sporting a "Snapper" Garrison hat, while Gerlak and Le Fevre were struggling along in conventional finery.

Flotsam and Jetsam . . .

Standing on the clubhouse veranda you could spot the losing tandems by the sag in their shoulders. . . The "birdie" boys for the day were Ernie Le Fevre No. 1, George Schick and Jim Winters on No. 2; Stan Hankinson, Art Hutton, Dr. Chet Van Gaasbeek, Harry Green, Herman Roosa and Judge Cashin on No. 5; Artie Organtini on No. 4. . . Herman Gottfried on No. 6, Herman Roosa on No. 8. . . George Schick turned in some of the finest golf of the day with identical rounds of 40-40-80. . . Maurice Davenport shot 81 and Ray Vogt, club and city champion, posted 78, best score among the amateurs. . . Among the low gross cards were: M. Davenport 41-40-81; Ed Remmert 40-43-83; Frank Stone 42-40-82; John Van Gonsie 42-43-85; George Schick 40-40-80; Herman Gottfried 45-44-89; A. J. Anderson 41-47-88; Ray LeFevre 43-42-85; Fabian L. OF MEN AND MICH: Lou Smith romped around the venison table, looking like the cat that ate the can. . . He looked out that he posted an 87. . . Herman Gottfried blasted a terrific brassie shot on No. 9 and barely missed a birdie 3. . . Dr. John Larkin put one over on Art Davis. . . Both were in the trap on No. 2 but when Mr. Davis said "I'm picking up," Dr. Larkin countered, "I'm picking up, too, but I win the hole. You picked up first." . . There was nothing in the rule book to cover that one and Dr. Larkin took the hole. . . Every time we looked up, "Leaky" Le Fevre was blasting a terrific iron or a 350-yarder off the tees. . . Art Hutton won a prize awarded by Al Schmid, a box of handkerchiefs, by coming within 10 feet 9 inches of the pin on No. 2. . . Bill Finch was two inches shorter. . . Herman Roosa won a quart of Coca Cola for planting one 5 feet 2 inches from the pin on No. 8. . . Ray Le Fevre was second and was awarded the first wig.

Claude Needes, who unworked that famous "trap to cup" birdie last week, was a good horse. . . We had two on him to take Fred Eriel. . . Eriel paid. . . The prize awards were won by George Schick, low gross 80, $5 in merchandise; Maurice Davenport, 81, $3 and Frank Stone $2, $2. . . In the blind bogey drawings, a flock of merchandise prizes were distributed by Dee and Tommy Danaher. . . Subway's, Frank's Decisive Winners In Softball Loop

Frank's Sport Shop opened the National Division of the City Softball League, with a 10-1 victory over Subway Grill No. 2, yesterday at Block Park.

Al Hunt, Frank's No. 1 twirler, throttled the Grills with five scattered hits, while his teammates were pounding Brown for eleven. Roe, McGrane and Hunt hit safely twice each for the winners.

Frank's enjoyed five run clusters in the second and third innings. Singles by McGrane and Tierney, a punt by Maxson, an infield out and two fielder's choices accounted for five in the second. The Sportsmen picked up five more in the next stanza when Tom Kasekie walked, McGrane doubled, Myers and Hunt singled and Freer also hit for two but was thrown out at third. A walk to Maxson and Roe's singleton completed the rally.

Subways escaped a shutout in the sixth when Netter singled, reached second on a passed ball and scored on Riggins' hit.

Yankees' Frank Shea Crowding Feller, Chandler And Newhouser for No. 1 Honors in Junior Loop

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Rookie Righthander Frank Shea of the New York Yankees, who not long ago was unofficially tabbed as the best freshman hurler of the major leagues, today challenged Bob Feller of Cleveland and Hal Newhouser of Detroit as well as his own teammate Spud Chandler for the designation as the number one pitcher of the American League. Shea last night gained his 10th victory against only two defeats when he defeated the American League Champion Red Sox in Boston 3-1.

Shea, whose three shutout victories rank him behind only Feller and Walter Masterson of Washington in that department, has allowed more than three runs in a game only once. That was a 9-6 victory over the same Red Sox. His two defeats were by the narrowest of margins, a 1-0 loss to the Red Sox in which he allowed only three hits and a 3-2 defeat by the Chicago White Sox in 10 innings. Three times he has topped Newhouser in pitching duels.

Joe Dobson, biggest winner on the Red Sox was Shea's opposing moundman in a two-inning triple play by Joe DiMaggio in the first inning got Jughandle Joe off on the wrong foot. The victory enabled the league leading Yankees to open up a five and a half game bulge over the second place Sox.

Dodgers Clip Phils

The Brooklyn Dodgers, led by their new home run slugger Pee Wee Reese, their new outfielder Arky Vaughan and their new cleanup cloutier Carl Furillo, downed the Phillies in Philadelphia 7-4 to move within two percentage points of the National League leading Boston Braves. With Reese, Vaughan and Furillo bagging three hits apiece, one of Reese's being his ninth home run, the Dodgers hammered Schoolboy Rowe for 14 hits to hand the big right-hander his third setback of the season and his first at Shibe Park since April 21, 1946. Until beaten last night, Rowe had won 13 straight games at his home park.

Blackwell Wins 13th

Ewell (The Whip) Blackwell, Cincinnati's no-hit pitcher, recovered from a poor start to register his 13th straight and 13th victory of the season as his mates came from behind to defeat the Chicago Cubs in Cincinnati 6-4. Eddie Lukan hit his sixth home run for the Red off Johnny Schmitz who went down to his 11th defeat.

The Cubs scored all their runs in the first inning on two hits, three bases on balls and shortstop Edie Miller's two-run error, then got only two more hits off Blackwell the rest of the way. Blackie, who has lost only two games, struck out 12 to raise his season's total to 91. Benny Zientara batted out four hits in five times at bat for the Reds. The defeat dropped the Cubs down into fifth place, only one game ahead of the Reds.

The Chicago White Sox spotted Detroit a 5-0 lead in the second inning and then came on to defeat the Tigers 6-5 in Chicago on Luke Appling's eighth inning home run off Hal White. Frank Papish, who relieved Gordon Maltzberger in the eighth, was the winner. The homer was Appling's sixth. Only twice before, in 1933 and again in 1936, has Appling evened his many as six homers in one season. Luke also got two singles.

Nats Trip A's

Washington emerged the victor in a see-saw battle with the Philadelphia Athletics, winning 8-7 with a three-run cluster in the last of the ninth. The A's had taken a 7-5 lead in the top of the inning with three runs of their own. A single by Mickey Vernon, 1946 batting champion of the league, scored Buddy Lewis from second with the winning run. Lewis had singled in the tying runs a moment earlier. The victory was credited to Scott Cary, who pitched to one batter. It was the rookie's first decision of the campaign.

All games were played at night. The scheduled night game between Cleveland and the Browns at St. Louis was postponed by rain. New York, Boston, St. Louis and Pittsburgh in the National League were not scheduled.

Windburn Stops Chez Emile 7-0, Fans Fourteen

Joneses Notch Fifth Straight In City League

The City League's master magician was back at the old stand last night, apparently oblivious of the fact that his act had been slightly jolted in two previous outings.

Bill Windburn, Jones Dairy ace, burst the Chez Emile bubble with a sparkling seven-hit performance, sprinkled with 14 strikeouts. The victory was Windburn's 13th in a row over a two year span and sent his streakout total soaring over the 50 mark for five games.

By virtue of their 7-0 victory, Jones Dairy assumed undisputed leadership in the twilight circuit and are the only unbeaten club in the league. The setback dropped Chez Emile to a second place tie with the onrushing Hofbrau, who appear fated to second place as a result of their heartbreaking loss to the Dairymen in the first game of the season.

Tough in Clutch
Chez Emile threatened a few times in the early stanzas but Windburn's strikeout ball was an effective stopper every time the Jordan nine got designs on home plate.

Joneses scored thrice in the second inning when Malnes walked, Zadany sacrificed and J. Berardi walked. Malnes scored on Crosby's ruff of A. Berardi's fly and a single by Windburn accounted for two more runs.

Ken Hopper singled "Daisy" Schatzel and Tommy Malnes home in the third. The final pair crossed the plate in the seventh. Charlie Bock tripled to the left field corner and scored on a fielder's choice, Schatzel reaching first base as the throw to cut off Bock at the plate arrived too late. Two successive errors by catcher Joe Schatzel made it a cakewalk for Windburn. Tinkie McElrath gave up nine hits in a losing role.

Large Crowd Present
Approximately 1,200 fans turned out to see Windburn regain early season effectiveness and establish the pennant chase as strictly a three-team affair among Jones Dairy, the Hofbrau, and Morgan's Restaurant.

New England Club Lists 27 in K.P.B.A. Regatta

The largest mass entry ever received by the Kingston Power Boat Association for any of its five regattas to date arrived in the mails Saturday when Commodore John Glennon received a communication from John M. Anderson, Jr., secretary of the New England Outboard Racing Association, listing 27 drivers who plan to compete in the K.P.B.A. regatta on the Kingston waterfront on July 6.

This influx of entries which includes outboard pilots from all sections of Massachusetts and Connecticut, boosts the total number of entries to date to 46.

Don Eldridge Listed
Heading the imposing array of crack eastern outboard drivers is the well-known Don Eldridge, of East Bridgewater, Mass. Don has been burning up the race courses in the east for several years, under the able coaching of his famous father, Marshall Eldridge, a veteran of almost 20 years of shingle piloting and twice winner of the Albany-to-New York marathon.

All the New England entries are here for the various hydroplane classes with five boats entered in Class M-12 in Class A, 4 in Class B and a half dozen in the Class C event.

New York Aces Due
Several prominent New York state drivers are among the 53 entries, including Henry Shuckshaft Jr., of White Plains, winner of the Class A race here last year; Charles Matthews, of Albany, who is entered in both the service and racing runabouts events, and Bob Marx, also of Albany, in the runabouts class.

Marx, who lost a leg in World War 2, has not been kept from pursuing his favorite hobby of outboard racing. Despite his handicap, he piloted his Class 1 runabout down the Hudson to win first place in his class in this year's renewal of the Albany-to-New York marathon, after seven hours and 21 minutes of continuous pounding.

Judge Says Landlord Can't Cut Services
Lincoln, Neb., July 1 (AP)—A temporary restraining order to keep a landlord from forcing tenants to move by cutting off utilities has been issued by Federal Judge John W. Delehant.

The order, issued just two hours after President Truman signed the new rent control bill yesterday, enjoins Edwin L. Stratton, Hastings, Neb., landlord, from cutting off water and electric service today from 11 apartments. It also orders Stratton to restore janitor and garbage collection service.

The injunction was granted at the request of Irving M. Gruher, Washington, chief of the litigation branch of the office of housing expediter, who flew here to plead the case. Stratton did not appear in court and could not be reached for comment.

Gruher told the court that the "plan, followed by the landlord would, if allowed to become widespread, seriously undermine the purpose of the new Rent Control Act."

The case is the first of its kind under the new law. A hearing has been set for July 8.

U. S. Service Drops Employees in Moscow

Moscow, July 1 (AP)—Four of six American employees of the United States Information Service in the Soviet Union have been notified they are being dropped by the Moscow office because of economy moves in Washington, it was learned today.

The four include an assistant director of the office, the wife of an American correspondent in Moscow, the son of one of the service attaches in Moscow, and a woman typist-clerk.

It was also learned the Soviet staff of the information service will be curtailed and that future translation work probably will be on a rate basis rather than on a straight salary. It was indicated there may be a reduction in the local program of monitoring the Voice of America—the Russian language broadcast by the United States.

The information service has been paying a few individuals 30 rubles nightly for listening and reporting on the broadcast, and allowing them to purchase a certain amount of American rationals from the embassy commissary. This probably will be discontinued.

(The ruble has an official rate of 5.3 to the dollar. Diplomats are permitted to buy rubles at 12 to the dollar.)

Wiltwyck Officers

Trustees of the Wiltwyck Cemetery Association held a meeting last evening at which time officers for the year were elected. A. H. Chambers was elected president; James H. Betts vice-president; Charles de la Vergne, secretary and Oscar Lawatch, treasurer.

The officers named for three years are James H. Betts, Henry Forst and Alexander B. Shufeldt.

American-Soviet Medicos Lay Claim To Cancer Progress

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

New York, July 1 (AP)—The American review of Soviet medicine, published by the American-Soviet Medical Society of New York, reports today that the new Russian cancer remedy, KR, is dissolving the malignant growths on about half of the patients thus far treated.

Whether these people may be expected to remain cancer-free is not predicted, but one of the patients now has remained well for two-and-a-half years.

Today's report is the latest in a series describing better preparations of KR, greater dosages and more apparent effectiveness.

The report is written by Mme. N. G. Klyueva, wife of G. Roskin, who discovered the remedy. The name is the initials of husband and wife.

KR is a chemical extract from the bodies of South American trypanosomes, spindle-shaped parasites that get into human blood and cause chagas disease. Bedbugs are the carriers.

Roskin discovered in 1938 that in otherwise healthy animals trypanosomes concentrate in the heart, spleen, liver, bone marrow and lymphatic glands. But in animals with cancer, these parasites desert those organs and gather in the malignant growth. They destroy the animal cancers.

That fact led to search for the chemical compound in the parasites bodies that presumably attacked the malignant tissues. This compound is still chemically unidentified.

Mme. Klyueva states that the

Ward Store Plans 'Promotion' Sale

The local Montgomery Ward store is featuring a special sales promotion called "Department Head Promotion," beginning Thursday, July 3, with a double-page advertisement in The Freeman.

According to Jason Roosa, assistant manager of the local Ward store, the sale will continue for a period of 10 days with many "amazing bargains as features of the promotion."

The Ward store will remain open Thursday until 9 p. m., due to the July 4th holiday, and will resume regular store hours on Saturday, July 5.

store controls in any area where they might have been subsequent to the termination of federal control, or in any other area he deems necessary.

The state law provides for continuation of controls in areas under federal control at the time Washington regulations ends. The state statute enjoins the state commissioner to fix regulations "so far as practicable . . . in conformity with those in force and effect at such time pursuant to such federal law."

This means, in effect, that the state law would "inherit" federal controls, but it is not bound inflexibly by them.

If a 15 per cent raise were agreed on by the tenant and landlord under the federal law, the state law presumably would recognize it and continue it. If a tenant refused to agree to the 15 per cent jump and continued at the present O.P.A.-fixed ceiling, that too presumably would be inherited by the state law. The federal housing coordinator, however, could approve increases meanwhile without regard to the 15 per cent provision.

The state law and its possible extension beyond mid-1948 is not without political overtones.

When O.P.A. controls lapsed temporarily for 25 days last July, New York was the only state with a law to meet the exigency. Governor Dewey mentioned it frequently in his reelection campaign and politically observers felt the law was politically profitable to him.

With Dewey a potential Presidential candidate again in 1948, state rent control likely will be a primary subject in the legislative session.

Bus Strike Averted

New York, July 1 (AP)—Residents of Queens county were assured of continued service on two of their most important bus lines today as a threatened strike of 900 A.P.L. mechanics and drivers was averted a few minutes before a midnight deadline last night. Representatives of the Tibbico Coach Corporation and the Green Bus Lines, Inc., and Locals 1104 and 1179 of the Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees agreed to submit the wage dispute to arbitration, thereby averting the walkout. The union seeks a basic wage of $1.75 an hour compared with the present rate of $1.20 on the Green Line and $1.13 on the Tibbico.

9-Piece Band Is To Open at Barn

Robert E. Teetsel, proprietor of The Barn on Route 28, announced today that a nine-piece orchestra will open an engagement at his place of business tonight—the first large orchestra that has been featured in this area for some time.

In line with his policy of featuring fine entertainment, Mr. Teetsel is holding "opening night" with Johnny Michaels and his nine-piece Society Orchestra furnishing dance music, and the Tucker Sisters entertaining at the Fine and Bandy Bar.

Sophie Miller Features Local Folk in Magazine

Sophie Miller who writes for national trade papers and magazines has three articles about local residents in recent publications she announced today at her home, 93 Broadway.

One feature in Motor Magazine deals with a bright red Model T station wagon used for practical purposes and as an advertisement for DeGraff's service station on Foxhall avenue.

The 22-year-old vehicle is in good running condition, with battery starter, motor run by magnets, sealed beam headlights and a modern spotlight.

Miss Miller's story on the car, illustrated by Gilbert Gibbs, local photographer, received consideration from Neal Adair, editor of Motor, who is interested in old cars still running.

The local author's other story, "Charlie, My Mailman," is about Charles Kelse, local postman, and a dog that follows him over his route. Once the mail-carrier and his canine companion were enemies; but, the barking lassie changed her attitude, and is now very jealous of Charlie's attention.

This feature is to be released in the magazine Our Animals, with photos by Ken Roosa, Freeman photographer.

The National Sporting Goods Dealer, whose editor is interested in G.E.'s opening stores, will carry Miss Miller's story on Frank's Sport Shop, North Front street, also illustrated by Photographer Roosa.

Flatbush Drips

The Times reported that "Even landlords, who will have to pay about 50 per cent more for the water, were happy." It is an assurance to them that plumbing supposed to last 16 years would hold up as promised.

Several hundred Brooklynites attended the special ceremony at Borough Hall. Many carried posters expressing their gratitude.

Mayor O'Dwyer praised "Our crystal-clear mountain water," and visitors received small bottles containing the last of the old Flatbush water.

The New York Water Service Company, which supplied the old water, announced during the ceremonies that the site of its plant would be used for a $50,000,000 housing development.

The old water supply system had been in use in the area since 1881. An estimated 400,000 Flatbush residents had signed many petitions to obtain the mountain water.

Rev. Dr. Phillips Named To State C.E. Office

At the 54th annual convention of the New York Christian Endeavor Union, held at Silver Bay from June 26 to 29, the Rev. Osterhout Phillips, pastor of the Ponckhockie Congregational Church, was elected to the office of state superintendent of citizenship. While at the convention, Dr. Phillips conducted a conference on "The Home and the Church". At the business session on Saturday, Eugene Albart of Rochester was re-elected state president. Officers from this area include Mrs. Nelson Lewis, who was re-elected state president. Officers from this area include Mrs. Nelson Lewis, who was re-elected director of the West-Hudson area, and Richard B. Talleur who was re-elected trustee. Both of these officers are from Kingston.

Thirty delegates attended from Ulster county, this delegation being second largest in attendance. Ulster took first place in the registration contest, winning with 158 per cent of their quota. They topped Orange county, which made 145 per cent after a close contest. In recognition of this achievement, the Ulster County Union was awarded a Kodaslide projector. Other awards were won by the Ponckhockie C.E. Society which registered 100 per cent of its membership, and held the record of attendance for individual societies with 18 members present. Individual awards were won by Shirley Parslow, Marguerite Lewis and Nelson Lewis of the Ponckhockie society, and by Beverly Reese, president of the Ulster County Union. The 1948 state convention will also be held at Silver Bay, on Lake George.

Photographer Is Held
New York, July 1 (AP)—Gene Bruneau, 69-year-old Oakmont, Pa., photographer, was taken into custody by detectives acting on information from his wife that he intended to shoot a Wall Street lawyer, police headquarters reported. Police said they guarded the New Rochelle, N. Y., home of Jerry Donovan, the intended victim, all night and seized Bruneau in Donovan's office when the detectives entered the office while the lawyer waited outside.

Trades Romance for Comics
Des Moines, Ia., July 1 (AP)—Blonde, attractive Mrs. Phyllis Pearson, 19-year-old British war bride, won a divorce yesterday by testifying her husband's passion for comic books and his tinkering with his old car had caused fights between them. The husband, Gene Pearson, 21, filed the divorce petition, alleging that he had received a black eye in one of their fights over the comic books, the car and money matters, but Mrs. Pearson in a 100-page petition, charged her husband "read those comic books for hours at night."
